

WILL SOLVE PROBLEMS REGARDING INCOME TAX

Deputy Collector W. A. Priggenitz, of the Income Tax department at Madison, arrived in the city Saturday morning, preparatory to opening an office here Monday morning. Mr. Priggenitz is sent here by Earl Williams, Collector of Internal Revenue, for the purpose of explaining any misunderstandings local people may have in regard to paying the tax on their 1918 income. There will be no charge for the work and the information that is being extended by the Deputy is for the people to bring in their problems, figures, doubts and questions regarding their income tax.

The office in this city will be located in the City Hall and the office hours will be from 9:00 in the morning until 5:00 in the afternoon, until the close of business on March 4th.

"This free advisory service," writes Collector Earl Williams, "is planned for those who are required for the first time to consider their liability and to make sworn returns. Many thousands who were not affected by the prior Federal law, making income tax this year, are returns. Here are the requirements:

"Every unmarried person who had a net income of $1,000 or over during 1918; and every married person who, together with wife (or husband) and minor children, had a net income of $2,000 in 1918."

"The advice and services of the Deputy Collector are entirely free, and he is authorized to administer the oath required on returns. Two of charges. Persons who are taxables should make payment when their returns by attaching check or money order.

"This tax is a war burden; it is a part of the price of victory, the greatest victory that the world has known. I believe the people of this district will meet it fully; and I am offering every facility of my office to aid them to determine their individual liability."

GRAND LAKES WANTS GAME

Manager Abel of the Company K basketball team has received a letter from the manager of the Grand Lakes team which the local boys defeated here a couple of weeks ago, stating that their team had lost the championship of the league down there to the Aviation team, and that the latter would like to come up here and meet the Company K team. The Aviation team won two consecutive games from the Third Regiment team, the score of the first game being 18 to 13 and the second 16 to 11. It is expected the game will be arranged and should be even better than the recent game played with the Jacksons. Manager Abel had been trying to arrange a game with the Grand Lakes team, which is composed of a bunch of university stars, and in the letter it stated that this team was playing on a thirty-nine game schedule, which was full. However, they stated they were anxious to meet the Grand Rapids boys and if any games were cancelled we would be notified. It may be of interest to Grand Rapids people to know that the Jacksons who played up here have all been honorably discharged and are civilians now.

WISCONSIN SOIL EXPERT HELPS RUDOLPH FARMERS

A small meeting of Rudolph farmers was held at the office of Kellogg Bros. Lumber Co. at Rudolph last Saturday afternoon, when P. S. Musbach, expert at the University came up to give the farmers some pointers on the condition of their soil. Samples had been submitted by Peter Harkins and Charles Kern, the latter having recently purchased the Conway farm, and the men were shown what sort of treatment was needed to put their land in first class shape. Ralph E. Wagner of this city went over the subject with Mr. Musbach and while the meeting was not as large as it might have been, there in attendance received some valuable information.

LADIES TURNED OUT

About fifty ladies turned out last Friday afternoon at the "Ladies Day" at the Elks Club, when the wives and families of Elks were invited to come in and use the Club House for an afternoon. The bowling alleys proved to be the center of interest for the ladies and while a few played cards and amused themselves in other ways the balanced spent the afternoon in bowling. The affair will be continued every Friday afternoon in the future unless the ladies decide that they prefer some other afternoon. Little extra attractions are being planned for the ladies if they continue to show an interest in the affair.

COMPLETED ICE HARVEST

The work of filling the Duly Ice house up river was completed during the past week and a good stock pile is being put up outside at the present time, which will take care of the ice business until the warm weather sets in. The ice was considerably this year than it has been in former years but considering the mild winter it was not as bad as many predicted, running from 12 to 14 inches thick and a fair quality. Farmers and others who are all, as their own houses along with the railroad's ice is now being taken care and the indications are that things will be cleaned up in a few days.

ENTERTAINED FOR SOLDIER

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Barney entertained a number of their friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. I. A. House, 11th street, last Thursday evening, in honor of their son, Guy, who has recently returned from service overseas. The evening was spent in social converse, games and dancing. At a late hour, delicious refreshments were served, covers being laid for thirty-two.

HIGH SCHOOL LOST; CO. K WINS GAME

Basket ball during the past week brought a defeat to the high school at the gym Friday night when the Stevens Point high school boys came over and won by a 26 to 14 score and a victory to the Company K team, the latter defeating the Marshfield city team Tuesday night at the Armory by a score of 34 to 21.

After practically having the game cornered in the first half the high school team weakened in the second, losing by the narrow margin of two points, one field basket. The high school lads put up something in the way of real basket ball at the opening of the game. Apparently the best team, they played consistently and at the end of the first half were ahead with a 9 to 5 score. Things changed during the latter period, however, and working up, gradually the Stevens Point boys nosed about, keeping just far enough in the lead to take the game. The Stevens Point lads had a little advantage in weight and the roughness of the game apparently went out the back of the Stevens Pointers, DeGuerre, Smith and Gault represented the high school.

In a rather one sided and loosely played game at the Armory Tuesday the Co. K team easily defeated the Marshfield City team. Grand Rapids started out strong and it was apparent from the beginning that there would be no trouble in coming out at the head of the list. Marshfield had a pretty fair team, but a good deal like the local players were inclined to attempt long shots and spectacular playing rather than playing a close, consistent game. Neither team played a good game, the locals having put up much better games in the past, and as the outcome of the contest was never in doubt, the interest was not as keen as is usually the case. The game was a little rough, both teams being fairly heavy, and the result was that a number of fouls were called by referee Haldstad. Pat Johnson pocketed free throw after free throw putting up about as good an exhibition in this way as has been seen in the Armory. The local team was composed of Stark, Johnson, Montgomery, Smith and Haldstad. Stark secured a small out over the ice in a collision in the first half but continued the game. A large crowd enjoyed dancing after the game.

Friday night the Company team will meet a fast team from Madison and the indications are that the contest will be a good one. The game will be followed by a dance and the night is expected to be up to its usual standard.

The local Camp Fire Girls met defeat at the hands of the Neokosa Camp Fire Girls in that town Friday night, the score being four to three.

CO-OPERATIVE PACKING COMPANY REORGANIZED

The annual meeting of the Farmers' Co-operative Packing company was held Tuesday afternoon when reports were read and an exceedingly good business shown during the year, but owing to the war conditions and lack of capital, the profits were not as great as would naturally be expected with the value of business. A dividend of three per cent was voted.

It has been evident to all connected with the plant that more capital was needed to keep it operating to full capacity and to take advantage of conditions which might arise and make the increase. It was decided to reorganize the company on a different basis, and make it a common law preferred stock company, and to change the name from the "Farmers' Co-operative Packing Co." to the "Wisconsin Packing Co." It was proposed to have the common stock now owned by the stockholders, $200,000 of preferred stock. The common stock to have an earning of six per cent and the preferred, seven per cent. The latter to be offered pro rata to the stockholders at par for ten days, and thereafter that not taken by them to be offered to the public.

The old company will be dissolved and the new company organized, all to be consummated by the date of the adjourned meeting, Tuesday, Feb. 25th.

The following directors were elected: W. R. Happe of Chillicothe; Francis Duest of Fossil; Hugo Petersen, Wausau; O. A. Stolen, Junction City and W. H. Howe, Antigo. Wausau Pilot.

BUILD BIG MASQUERADE

About seventy-five of the Lady Foresters gathered at their hall Wednesday night and enjoyed a masquerade dance, party. The ladies were cleverly costumed for the occasion and the evening was a most pleasant one for those in attendance. The party was awarded as follows: "First Prize"—Miss Couple, Miss Dornick and Miss Frances; "Second Prize"—Miss Couple, Miss Naah and Miss Mike Niles; "Best couple," Miss Jennie Mita and Miss Kate Kammerer.

Refreshments were served by a committee during the evening and while the entire affair was staged without the assistance of the men the ladies say they had some maskers there who were so well disguised that you couldn't tell the difference so they got along real nicely.

POSTPONED TAG DAY

The War Relief Tag Day, which was scheduled to be held Wednesday of this week has been postponed to a later date due to the extremely cold weather. The people of the city will be notified before the event is carried out and will be given a chance to donate to the starving Europeans at some future time.

Alex Nyhylan, who gives his address as this city, was reported wounded severely on Saturday's casualty list.

ELKS WILL MAKE BID FOR NEXT CONVENTION

At the special meeting held at the Elks Club last Thursday night it was decided to put in a bid for the Annual Elks Convention next summer and should the competition of other cities in the state be overcome it is probable that we will land the event. At the present time both Marinette and LaCrosse along with some other cities are making a strong bid for this year's gathering. Both are larger cities than Grand Rapids and whether they will be able to convince the state officials that they have more to offer remains to be seen. The railroad facilities to neither city are as good as those of Grand Rapids, and it may be that this will offset other disadvantages that this city may offer. No word has been received as yet from the state authorities and it may be some time before the convention is awarded to any city.

STATE POSTMASTERS MEET HERE IN JUNE

About six hundred postmasters, of the third and fourth class offices of the state are expected to gather in this city on June 17, 18 and 19th at the annual meeting of the state association. Arrangements for the convention were completed at a meeting of the officers held in this city last week, when President, W. A. Koeh of Brillion, Vice-President, Charles O'Brien of Neesham, Secretary George Schmidt, of Keweenaw, W. C. Mader of Wausau and W. H. Hamilton of Jackson, directors met with Postmaster Nash of this city at the Elks Club.

Throughout the state there are in the neighborhood of eleven hundred post offices of the third and fourth class. Of this number there are about eight hundred members of this association. Past conventions have brought an attendance of from five to six hundred and it is expected that through the central location of this city the meeting held here next summer will be unusually large. The benefits of the advertising of a convention of this kind for the city are unusual. It is not a matter of a large delegation coming here from one city but there will be a representation from practically every small town in Wisconsin.

While the convention has been strictly a business proposition with the postmasters in the past, Mayor Briere and G. D. Byllesinger in talking to the officers urged them to set aside a half day for entertainment of the visitors. He outlined a tentative program that includes auto rides along the river road to Neokosa and then up above Byron to one of the Club Houses, where a picnic supper might be served. As this will be a meeting that was supposed to take place two years ago in this city, and was postponed on account of the war, an unusual amount of business is anticipated, however, it is hoped that the delegates will have an opportunity to see some of the beauties of the surrounding country.

KELLOGG BROS. YARD MOVED. HOLD ANNUAL SESSION

Kellogg Bros. Lumber Company yard managers gathered in this city and held their annual convention on Tuesday and Wednesday. The gathering brought a representative from each of their ten lumber yards in other cities of the state, and was considered a very successful meeting.

Those who were in attendance were: Claus Hoonover, Milladore; Ed. Caswell, Vesper; Myron Rohlf, Rudolph; E. C. Kellogg, Neokosa; Ed. Clark, Almond; Henry Holt, Wild Rose; Waldo Brown, Westfield; Henry Melnik, Packwaukee; Sam Campbell, Beaver; Leo Stalker, Oxford; and the representatives from the local yard.

Tuesday's sessions were taken up by talks by W. S. Haldstad, of the Soil Department of the Wausau, Wisconsin county, who addressed the managers on the value of the sludge. Eugene Vanderhook, of the Armour Fertilizing Works, and O. W. Martin representing Fluxman, Inc., both gave interesting and instructive talks on their subjects. Wednesday L. M. Klima of the King Ventilating Co., and P. D. Van Vleet of the Universal Portland Cement Co., addressed the men. The policy of the Kellogg Bros. Lumber Co. for the coming year were discussed generally and the lumbermen left looking forward to one of the brightest futures they have ever faced.

BANK OF GRAND RAPIDS MAY BUILD THIS SUMMER

Senator I. P. Witter, who is President of the Bank of Grand Rapids, stated Saturday while in the city, that whether the proposed new bank building for the Bank of Grand Rapids was built this summer or not, depended chiefly upon the prices of building materials. Mr. Witter stated that the project had been under consideration for several years now and probably would have been built had it not been for the war. At the present prices, he stated, it would not be practical to build, but the indications are that materials may still become a realization. Two sites are at the present time under consideration, the park opposite the Johnson & Hill store, and the corner site formerly occupied by the Johnson & Hill Grocery, which was partially burned a few years ago. The latter location is being looked on rather favorably and it may be that when the building is put up it will replace the ruined structure which stands there now.

Charles Benson of the town of Plover was a business visitor in the city today and while here paid the Tribune office a call, having dropped in to advance his subscription for another year. Mr. Benson reports pretty well, enjoying out his way and says that the farmers are making good use of it at the present time.

MAY MODEL AFTER WOOD CO. NORMAL

That the idea of operating the Wood County Teachers' Training school and the County Agricultural school in conjunction with each other, in the same building under one management as has been done in this city, may prove to be a basis for the operation of all County Teachers' Training Schools in this state, has been revealed by a recent trip to Madison made by Prof. M. H. Jackson. The trip was made at the request of the State Board of Education who had heard of the work in this city and Mr. Jackson was called down there to tell them the work this school was doing and how it was working out. In outlining the work Mr. Jackson gave them a clear insight on how the teachers that left the Normal here equipped with both an education for teaching the pupils and for assisting the farmers of their community in any agricultural problems that might arise.

With the exception of the County Teachers' Training school at Marinette, no other County Normal in this state offers the advantages of getting both an agricultural and Normal education that the Wood County institution does. Prospective teachers that come to this city for their education are taken in and given all the rudiments that go into the making of a successful teacher. In addition to this city they are instructed in agricultural pursuits that fit them to give the average farmer much assistance in the finer points of farming, knowledge that most people in the country have not the means of obtaining except by attending an agricultural school. The teachers can go into the field, select seed corn, tell a farmer what the trouble is with his potatoes, grains or most anything he is experiencing difficulty with. In addition to this the teacher imparts this knowledge to her pupils who leave the county schools of the county better able to assist in the farm work or equipment start out on a farm for themselves.

After outlining the plan that is carried out by the Wood County Normal and after answering numerous questions which showed they were pretty familiar with the work done here, the members of the State Board of Education spoke very highly of this plan. The point that they seemed particularly pleased with was the economic means it offered for spreading agricultural information through the schools of the county. They stated that they were ready to co-operate in every way in making this school system a success and it is hoped to carry the plan out in the future on a more extensive scale than it has been in the past.

That this school has previously been recognized for the work they have been doing is demonstrated by the fact that only one other school of this kind in Wisconsin is receiving Federal Aid. This federal aid is an unusual advantage to a school as has enabled the local institution to carry out the "Two Weeks School" plan in this county. This affords farmer boys or others interested in agriculture throughout the county a chance to attend a short, agricultural session in their community. Such a school is being conducted in Pittsville at the present time and according to the reports from that city is receiving the strongest support and enjoying a large attendance.

That the reputation of this school has spread farther than within the bounds of the state is shown by an article which appeared in the Virginia Journal of Education in a recent issue. The article is written by Mrs. P. C. Beverly, of Whitfield, Virginia, who visited the County Normal here last fall. When Mrs. Beverly arrived for her visit Prof. Jackson told her that he was afraid she had come at the wrong time, as the entire agricultural class was at work in a corn field in the county selecting seed corn for farmers. This naturally surprised the visitor, but she decided that this was just the right time to see the teachers doing just what is the aim of every institution to have their teachers capable of doing. Mrs. Beverly was taken out to the field where the seed corn was being selected, and in the journal she says:

"A visit to Wood County Teachers' Training school, Grand Rapids, Wisconsin, was not only very instructive, but it was a most interesting experience. Prof. M. H. Jackson, with his strong crop of teachers, is doing much for the schools of Wood County. Again the work of the graduate was followed up in the school room with pleasing results.

"The doing of needful things and doing them efficiently is not forgotten by Prof. Jackson. Our pupils must be provided with a small balanced educational diet if they are to become doers as well as thinkers. When the writer asked to visit the agricultural class, information was given that they were three miles out in the country saving a neighbor's seed corn. It was an inspiration to drive out and see forty-four girls and one boy in the corn field performing this patriotic duty. Wood county had imported $20,000 worth of seed corn the year before and the pupils were doing their bit to avoid a repetition of that record. The farmer had saved sufficient seed for his own use and he had promised to market what was saved on that day. The Women's Council of Deafness furnished the transportation and the pupils were happy in their work, under the direction of Mr. Corey, agricultural director.

We must rapidly learn the lesson from Wood County that the field can be made a part of the school plant. We cannot educate by a study of abstract things from books, it must be coupled with 'out of school' activities."

Roy Sweet, who has been conducting the Grand Rapids Auto Trim Co. on Second street, has closed up his business and leased the Mathis ranch near Bancroft which he will operate for the coming year. Mr. Sweet expects to take possession of the farm next week.

COMPANY K IS EXPECTING RIFLE CLUB EQUIPMENT

The bonds required for the securing of the Rifle Club equipment for Company K have been filled out and forwarded to the Superintendent of Marksmanship at Washington, and it is expected that the equipment for the club will be here before long. The materials that are expected include fourteen King Jorgensen Rifles, two Springfields and two gallery rifles, 1,000 rounds of ammunition for the large rifles and 11,000 rounds for the 22 caliber rifles. This will place the club on a working basis and it is expected that some interesting events will be pulled off when the equipment arrives.

C. C. Daly remembered his friends in Co. K during the past week when he donated a load of coal to the company. Percy says that the week at camp was the best he ever spent. It did cost him $72 denurage.

The company have been making a few apologies for the bowling team but while they are waiting for the alley hounds to get the kinks out of their backs they are depending on the basketball team to uphold their athletic honor.

MORTIMER WILSON MAY GET PARDON

A movement has been started by the Prison Reform Association of this state to pardon Mortimer Wilson, slayer of Grant Boardley of this city. Wilson, it is stated, has been in very poor health for some time past and has been confined to the tubercular ward due to his broken down physical condition.

The story of the murder no doubt stands very prominent in the minds of Grand Rapids people. Wilson, disguised with a handkerchief over his face, hid in the Boardley barn, awaiting Grant Boardley's return from the store. Wilson had been employed in the store as delivery man and was familiar with the fact that Boardley was in the habit of bringing the store's money home with him at night. When Mr. Boardley came to the barn and started to unhitch the horse Wilson stepped out and commanded him to throw up his hands. Boardley was under the impression that it was some one fooling and instead of complying with the demand, turned around to take the "bride" of the horse. Wilson fired and instead of attempting to rob became frightened and fled. Boardley fell with a bullet in his abdomen.

Boardley was rushed to the hospital but in spite of all that could be done for him passed away the following morning. Later in the evening, as the story was told by the authorities, a handkerchief was picked up in the Lincoln School yard and identified by a local merchant as one that he had sold Wilson that day. Wilson was located at the home of some friends of his where a party was in progress. When accused he at first took the matter lightly denying his guilt but when pressed with questions became confused and admitted that he was the guilty man. He was taken to Wausau the following morning due to some threats of violence on the part of the local people and later to Stevens Point where he was sentenced to a life term in the state prison.

A. C. Petrie, President of the Prison Reform Association, was in the city the first of the week, stated that Wilson's case was being looked up preparatory to asking the Governor to grant his pardon. Rev. Petrie, who is at present pastor of the Congregational church at Clintonville in addition to his work as visiting Chaplain of the Reform Association, stated that from all appearances Wilson was never given much of a chance to fight his case at the time of his conviction. Following in the murder Wilson was rushed to Wausau and then to Stevens Point where he was convicted. It is stated that he never had an attorney to represent him and pleaded guilty to the charge with the assurance that he would be shown clemency. The result was that when he admitted his guilt he was given the limit and had completed six years of his sentence by October. How the Governor will feel on the matter depends probably on how plainly the Association grounds for pardon appear, however, due to the break down in Wilson's health it is expected that he will be released.

TO MEET IN MADISON

Drainage men of this section have received notice that the Wisconsin State Drainage Association will meet at Madison this year, the dates set being March 12, 13 and 14. As the convention was postponed last year a large attendance is looked for and some important business will be transacted.

NOTICE

—Notice is hereby given that on April 30, the second Wednesday of the month an appeal will be made for clemency in the case of Mortimer Wilson who is serving a life term in the State Prison at Waupun for murder in the first degree.

K. OF C. HAVE BIG CROWD

A crowd that filled the K. of C. hall gathered to enjoy the Hard Times Dancing party last Friday night. The costumes were unique and the dancers spent a very enjoyable evening. Refreshments were served and the dancing continued until a late hour.

COMMITTED TO ASYLUM

Sadie Lipsitz, of the town of Saratoga and George Korkamp of Sherry were adjudged insane during the past week by County Judge W. J. Conway. They were taken to the Northern Hospital for the insane at Oshkosh the first of the week.

WITTER BACKING DRAINAGE BILLS

Stating that the present session of the State Legislature is probably the most important session held since 1861, Senator I. P. Witter who spent the week at his home in this city, gave a Tribune representative some interesting facts on the work he is taking up down there and the bills which will materially affect this district. The return of the soldiers from the camps in this country and from France, Mr. Witter said, brings quite a similar condition as existed at the close of the Civil War. This condition must be faced by the law makers of the state and will necessarily cause some new legislation. It is the object of the legislature, he stated, to be generous in doing all they can for the boys that are coming back, and at the same time they do not want to go into the matter haphazardly and will try to effect some laws that will be a permanent benefit as well as take care of them during the industrial change that is naturally expected during the coming year.

The Drainage bill that will be brought up during this session, Senator Witter said, will be among the important bills that will not only benefit the swamp lands in Wood county and Central Wisconsin, but will be a general benefit to the state. The proposed bills, as described by Atty. B. M. Vaughan, a member of the Governor's Special Committee appointed to draft these bills, will bring about a complete revision of the present statutes.

In telling of the new laws which are proposed Mr. Vaughan stated that in the state there are about 3,000,000 acres of swamp land. There is an addition 4,500,000 acres of land, not exactly swamp, but too wet to farm properly. The land not only produces better crops when drained but will bring a much higher price when sold. In the past the undrained lands have brought anywhere from $1 up to $5 and $6 an acre and in exceptional cases $10, the same land bringing $25 up to $225 and more when drained. This is when they are used for actual farming of course, and not bought as a speculation.

Under the present drainage laws one must cannot drain their another man's land unless some benefit to the public accrues. It is therefore considered necessary to have drainage laws by which when public interests will be subserved, drainage cannot be forced upon the unwilling land owners. The present four laws on drainage which are embodied in the state statutes have been amended and re-amended until they are a patch-work with several uncertain and conflicting provisions. Two years ago, the Legislative Committee of the State Drainage Association presented two bills to the legislature, one to connect the conflicting parts of the Drainage District laws and the other known as the Farm Drainage Bill, which was supposed to cover the legislature but due to the fact that the Governor did not have time to examine them, they were voted by him.

In an endeavor to interest the drainage men in getting the laws on this matter straight the Governor appointed a Special Committee which included Theo. W. Brazear of this city, as chairman and B. M. Vaughan, The Drainage, Water-power and Navigation interests of the state were represented by their attorneys and three members of the Legislature, along with the professors of Drainage and Horticulture of the University, made up the committee. About a month was spent in redrafting the bills that had been voted by the Governor and when presented this session will recommend that all the former laws be repealed and the new bills take their place.

New features that are included in the proposed laws will permit mill dams to be bought, condemned and removed, where the public and private benefits exceed the damages caused; navigable streams may be entered upon for drainage if the public rights of navigation are not injured. All the questions that arise out of removal of mill dams or entering navigable streams will be decided by the State Railroad Commission. The Chief State Engineer will have supervision of all large drainage projects and the larger small ones.

The new Farm Drainage Bill would place small drainage projects of the county under the control and management of a County Drainage Board, to be appointed by the County Court. The body would be a continuing one and it is expected would give better results than supervisors who are continually changing before they get thoroughly familiar with the work. It is expected that the bills will be passed and when they become laws will reduce the expense of draining and make it more effective in the state. Senator Witter, who is chairman of the Drainage Committee of the Legislature, which is composed of three Senators and four Assembly men, is working on the bills now and will back them when they come before the law makers at this session.

BOUGHT SECOND HAND STORE

S. V. Topping, formerly of this city, but who is at present in farming near Neokosa, bought the Second Hand Store on First street near the Geo. T. Rowland store last week. The store was formerly owned and run by Ed. Stillwell, whose ill health has led him to sell out and enter into some more healthful pursuit. Mr. Topping has secured a man to the store for him and will continue to live on his farm for the present.

The Elks have issued invitations for a dancing party to be held at their Club House next Tuesday evening. This is positively the last dance before Lent and several attractive feature numbers have been arranged in honor of the occasion.

YOUTH BREAKS LEG IN FALLING DOWN HAYMOW

Earl, the eight year old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Kuntosen of the town of Saratoga, met with a serious accident a week ago Saturday when he fell thru the haymow in the barn on his father's farm, breaking his leg. The lad was playing in the loft where most of the hay had been removed. Accidentally he stepped into the opening where the hay mangers, falling a distance of about ten feet. When he was picked up it was discovered that his leg had been broken in the fall and he was rushed to the Riverview hospital in this city for treatment. At the present time he is getting along as nicely as could be expected and will apparently enjoy a rapid recovery.

GRAND RAPIDS MEN HOME THIS SPRING

Dispatches from Paris, which include orders from Gen. Pershing, indicate that Troop G, of this city will leave France during May and should be home the latter part of that month or early in June. The dispatches name the eighty-fifth division, which includes some 5,000 Wisconsin men, for transport during March. This division was composed chiefly of selected men who reported to Camp Center the latter part of 1917 and early in 1918 and the central counties of Wisconsin are said to be largely represented in this division.

The Thirty-Second Division, which is made up almost entirely of Wisconsin and Michigan men of the old national guard, includes the Cavalry Troop of this city, which was transferred to field artillery upon their arrival in camp. At that time the need for field artillery regiments was urgent and it was considered that the local men could better serve their country in the latter capacity. The shortage of horses and the boats required to put the animals in France and maintain them there, made cavalry troops rather a luxury. The troop was organized at the outbreak of the war and were transferred to Camp Douglas during the summer. From there they went to Waco, Texas, where they underwent some intensive training before going to France.

In the dispatches received from Pershing he said: "American soldiers will return home in the order of the arrival of their respective division headquarters in France. Gen. Pershing announced in general orders made public Tuesday.

NEXT YEAR'S OFFICERS NOMINATED AT ELKS

C. A. Northington, Dr. C. T. Foote and Walter L. Wund were nominated for the offices of Exalted Ruler of the Elks lodge of this city Tuesday evening at the regular meeting of the lodge the officers for the coming year were put up. Other nominations are:

Sec.—Sam Howard.
Esteemed Loyal Knight—Hert Boyer.
Esteemed Lecturing Knight—A. F. Thompson.
Esteemed Leading Knight—O. R. Moore.
Tyler—Dr. Henry.
Trustee—P. C. Jolly.
Treasurer—Frank Walsh and Ed. Witzke.

Other officers that will be vacant and will be filled by the appointments made by the Exalted Ruler are Executive, Inner-Guard, Chaplain and Organist.

The men nominated at this meeting will be voted upon at the next meeting and as there are several up for some of the offices the election should be an interesting one.

District Deputy Tom Connors of Chippewa Falls, was in attendance at the lodge and inspected the work here during his visit.

CAUGHT THE SLICKER

Last week the Tribune related the story of a slick stranger who had attempted to swindle local merchants on an advertising card, having secured several ads for the proposition of a local printer, without having paid for them. The scheme was a smooth one but not quite slick enough to fool Chief Payne, who looked the matter up and caught the culprit down at Berlin. The man gave his name as Geo. H. Schapper and came across with the $20 with was due the local printer.

GOES TO INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL

Sam Britton, colored, aged fifteen was committed to the Industrial School at Wausau at the session of the County Court on Tuesday. Sam lives with his mother down at Neokosa and had become quite a character around town. He had been a little bit shy about going to school and as he will be given a chance to learn a trade at the Industrial school, it was decided best to send him down. Sheriff Blue took him down to Wausau this week.

LOCAL ATTORNEY CHOSEN

Atty. Theo. W. Brazear, of the firm of Goggins, Brazear & Goggins, has been retained by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul and the Chicago & Northwestern railroads as Assembly Representative. This means that Mr. Brazear will be down at Madison a good deal looking out for the railroads' interest there. The appointment speaks highly of Mr. Brazear's ability.

WANTS MOUNTED POLICE

Assemblyman W. H. Chilson of Merrill has drafted a bill which he intends to present to the State Legislature by which he seeks to create a state constabulary or mounted police, which he says will serve to deter Bolshevism in the state, enforce speed and road laws and also aid the game and conservation commission to enforce game and fish laws.

WILL GIVE DANCE FOR SOLDIER BOYS

Backed by a unanimous vote of Company K, it was definitely decided Monday night at the Armory that the returning soldiers of Grand Rapids will be given a "Welcome Dance" Monday night, March 3rd. The proposition has been talked some about town and while some are in favor of showing the boys that they are glad to see them back, others would delay the welcome until next summer, combining it with the Fourth of July celebration or some similar event. However, in view of the fact that many who are now home will be gone to other cities to work before next summer, the dance will be given a week from Monday night, at which time all men who have been in the service are invited to attend in uniform. There will be no charge to the men in uniform, the dance being entirely in their honor.

Company K has decided that they will bear the burden of the expense of the dancing party but as they have no other fund to draw from outside of their money made at entertainments, they can not afford to put on an extensive program. However, should any other organizations in the city wish to stop in and volunteer to do anything that might make the evening attractive to the boys, they will be heartily welcomed. Refreshments would be an attractive addition to the evening's dancing and it is hoped that some of the Ladies organizations of the city will feel that they would like to do their share in this way. This entertainment is entirely a city affair and there is no limit set on what can be done for the boys. Any citizen who has ideas on what ought to be done are requested to stop up with them and if they have any practical means of putting these ideas across now is the time to express them.

As now no one else has taken hold of the matter, Capt. Wilbur Hirschfeld of Company K is taking care of the dance. These ideas could be conveyed to him and your co-operation will not only be appreciated by the Company but as the affair is representative of the city it will mean that the boys who are back from war will benefit by them. The time is getting to be comparatively short now and immediate action will be necessary to get results.

MARSHFIELD CONTRACTOR CUTTING RAILROAD'S ICE

J. K. McCullis, of Marshfield, started cutting ice on the pond above the Consolidated mill the latter part of the week, furnishing it to the St. Paul railroad on a contract for 800 cars that he has taken with them. The ice is fairly good, being eighteen inches thick and while the upper half has been ice-combed some it has frozen again and is in fair shape. The lower half of the cake is clear and as hard as could be desired.

ELKS HAD LARGE CROWD

About sixty couple attended the dancing party at the Elks Club Friday evening, making the affair one of the most successful that has been given for some time. The evening was pleasantly spent in dancing and music was furnished by the Elks' Jazz band. One of the quartets of the evening was a vocal quartet by the orchestra, assisted by Frank Walsh and Miss Bernice Eggert on the piano. Several vocal numbers were rendered by the quartet.

BROUGHT HIM GOOD MONEY

Theo. Wilborn, of the town of Port Edwards, came in to town Tuesday, bringing in a couple of young steers, which he sold to Link & Worle. The animals were two year olds and dressed weighed 1180 pounds, and as the market price was 18 cents he received $212.40 for the beef. The hides were also sold to the same firm and the total brought Mr. Wilborn $236.40. This was quite a profitable day and Mr. Wilborn went home in the afternoon well satisfied.

GRAND RAPIDS, WISCONSIN, FEBRUARY 27, 1919

WILL SOLVE PROBLEMS
REGARDING INCOME TAX

Deputy Collector W. A. Priebe, of the income tax department at Madison, arrived in the city Saturday morning, and will be here Monday morning. Mr. Priebe is sent here by Mr. Williams, collector of internal revenue, for the purpose of explaining any misunderstandings local people may have in regard to paying the tax on their 1918 income. There will be no charge for the work and the invitation that is being extended by the deputy is for the people to bring in their questions, figures, doubts and questions regarding their income tax.

The office in this city will be located in the City Hall and the office hours will be from 9:00 in the morning until 5:00 in the afternoon, until the close of business on March 4th.

"This free advisory service," writes Collector Priebe, "is planned for those who are required for the first time to consider their liability and to make sworn returns. Many thousands who were not affected by the prior Federal laws taxing incomes must this year file returns. Here are the required manuals:

Every unmarried person who had a net income of $1,000 or over during 1918, and every married person who, together with wife (or husband) and minor children, had a net income of $2,000 in 1918."

"The advice and services of the Deputy Collector are entirely free, and he is authorized to administer the oath required on returns. Those who make payment when their returns by attaching check or money order."

"This tax is a war burden; it is a part of the price of victory, the greatest victory that the world has known. I believe the people of this district will meet it fully; and in offering every facility of my office to them to determine their individual liability."

GREAT LAKES WANTS GAME

Manager Abel of the Company K basketball team has received a letter from the manager of the Great Lakes team in which the boys are asked to play a game at the latter's home in the city. The letter states that their team has lost the championship of the league and that the latter would like to come up here and meet the Company K team. The Aviation team won two consecutive games from the Third Regiment team the score of the first game being 18 to 13 and the second 15 to 11. It is expected the game will be arranged and should be even better than the recent game played with the Jackies. Manager Abel had been trying to arrange a game with the Great Lakes last season, which is composed of a bunch of university stars, and in the letter it stated that this team was playing on a thirty-nine game schedule. It was full of players who were anxious to meet the Grand Rapids boys and if any games were cancelled we would be notified. It may be of interest to Grand Rapids people to know that the Jackies who played up here have all been honorably discharged and are civilians now.

WISCONSIN SOIL EXPERT

HELPS RUDOLPH FARMERS

A small meeting of Rudolph farmers was held at the office of Kellogg Bros. Lumber Co. at Rudolph last Saturday afternoon, when P. S. Muschler, expert of the University of Wisconsin, gave the farmers a talk on the condition of their soil. Samples had been submitted by Peter Hartjes and Charles Korn, the latter having recently purchased the Conway farm, and the men were shown what sort of treatment was needed to put their land in first class shape. Ralph E. Wagner of this city, who is the subject of this article, and while the meeting was as large as it might have been, those in attendance received some valuable information.

HIGH SCHOOL LOST;
CO. K WINS GAME

Basket ball during the past week brought a defeat to the high school at the gym Friday night when the Stevens Point high school boys came over and won by a 26 to 14 score and the latest Company K team, a victory over the Marshfield team Tuesday night at the Armory by a score of 34 to 21.

After practically having the same corralled in the first half the high school team weakened in the second, losing by the narrow margin of two points, one field basket. The high school lads put up something in the way of real basket ball at the opening of the game. Apparently the best team, they played consistently and at the end of the first half were ahead with a 9 to 5 score. Things changed during the latter period, however, and working up gradually the Stevens Point boys nosed ahead, keeping just far enough in the lead to take the game.

The Stevens Point team, who were not affected by the prior Federal laws taxing incomes must this year file returns. Here are the required manuals:

Every unmarried person who had a net income of $1,000 or over during 1918, and every married person who, together with wife (or husband) and minor children, had a net income of $2,000 in 1918."

ELKS WILL MAKE BID
FOR NEXT CONVENTION

At the special meeting held at the Elks Club last Thursday night it was decided to put in a bid for the Annual Elks Convention next summer and should the competition of other cities in the state be overcome it is probable that we will land the event. At the present time both Marinette and LaCrosse along with some other cities are making a strong bid for this year's gathering. Both are larger cities than Grand Rapids and whether they will be able to convince the state officials that they have more to offer remains to be seen. The railroad facilities to neither city are as good as those to Grand Rapids, and it may be that this city may offer no word has been received yet from the state authorities and it may be some time before the convention is awarded to any city.

STATE POSTMASTERS
MEET HERE IN JUNE

About six hundred postmasters of the third and fourth class offices of the state are expected to gather in this city on June 17, 18 and 19th, at the annual meeting of the state association. Arrangements for the convention were completed at a meeting of the officers held in this city last week when President, W. Koeh of Brillion, Vice-President, Charles O'Brien of Neenah, Secretary George Schmidt, of Kewaskum, W. C. Mader of Winneconne and W. H. Froehlich of Jackson, directors met with Postmaster Nash of this city at the Elks Club.

Throughout the state there are in the neighborhood of a hundred post offices of the third and fourth class. Of this number there are about eight hundred members of this association. Past conventions have brought an attendance of from five to six hundred and it is expected that through the central location of this city the meeting held here next summer will be unusually large. The benefits of the advertising of a convention of this kind for the city are many. It is not a matter of a large delegation coming here from one city but there will be a representative from practically every small town in Wisconsin.

While the convention has been strictly a business proposition with the postmasters in the past, Mayor Briere and C. D. Fritzsche in talking to the officers urged them to aside a half day for entertainment of the visitors. He outlined a tentative program that includes auto rides along the river road to Neenah and then up above Biron to one of the Club Houses, where a picnic supper might be served. As this will be a meeting that was supposed to take place two years ago in this city, and was postponed on account of the war, an unusual amount of business is anticipated. It is hoped that the delegates will have an opportunity to see some of the beauties of the surrounding country.

KELLOGG BROS. YARD MGRS.
HOLD ANNUAL SESSION

Kellogg Bros. Lumber Company yard managers gathered in this city and held their annual convention on Tuesday and Wednesday. The gathering brought a representative from each of their ten lumber yards in other cities of the state, and was considered a very successful meeting.

Those who were in attendance were: Charles H. Vesper, Myron Reinhardt, Ralph E. Kellogg, Neenah; Ed. Clark, Almond; Henry Holt, Wild Rose; Waldo Brown, Westfield; Henry Meinke, Packwaukee; Sam Campbell, Endicott; Leo Stalker, Oxford; and the representatives from the local yard.

Tuesday's sessions were taken up by talks by W. S. Halladay, of the Waukesha Limestone Company, who addressed the managers on the value of limestone; Pierce Vandercrook, of the Armour Fertilizing Works and O. W. Martin representing Plankum Insulating. The men gave interesting talks on their subjects. Wednesday L. M. Klina of the Ventilating Co., and Van Vleet of the Portland Cement Co. addressed the men. The policy of the Kellogg Bros. Lumber Co. for the coming year were discussed generally and the lumbermen left looking forward to one of the brightest futures they have ever faced.

BANK OF GRAND RAPIDS
MAY BUILD THIS SUMMER

Senator I. P. Witter, who is President of the Bank of Grand Rapids, stated Saturday while in the city, that whether the proposed new bank building for the Bank of Grand Rapids was built this summer or not depended chiefly upon the prices of building materials. Mr. Witter stated that the project had been under consideration for several years now and probably would have been built had it not been for the war. At the present prices, he stated, it would not be practical to build, but the indications are that materials will drop some and the proposition may still become a realization. Two sites are at the present time under consideration, the park opposite the Johnson & Hill store and the corner site formerly occupied by the Johnson & Hill Grocery, which was partially burned a few years ago. The latter location is being looked on rather favorably and it may be that when the building is put up it will replace the ruined structure which stands there now.

Charles Benson of the town of Plover was a business visitor in the city today and while here paid the Tribune office a call, having dropped in to advance his subscription for another year. Mr. Benson reports pretty good sleighing and his way and says that the farmers are making good use of it at the present time.

MAY MODEL AFTER
WOOD CO. NORMAL

That the idea of operating the Wood County Teachers Training school and the County Agricultural school in conjunction with each other, in the same building under one management as has been done in this city, may prove to be a basis for the operation of all County Teachers Training Schools in this state, was revealed by a recent trip to Madison made by Prof. M. H. Jackson. The trip was made at the request of the State Board of Education who had heard of the work in this city and Mr. Jackson was called down there to tell them the work this school was doing and how it was working out. In outlining the work Mr. Jackson gave them a clear insight on how the teachers that left the Normal here equipped with both an education for teaching the pupils and for assisting the farmers of their community in any agricultural problems that might arise.

With the exception of the County Teachers Training school at Marinette, no other County Normal in the state offers the advantages of getting both an agricultural and Normal education that the Wood County institution does. Prospective teachers that come to this city for their education are taken in and given all the rudiments that go into the making of a successful teacher. In addition to this city they are instructed in agricultural pursuits that fit them to give the average farmer much assistance in the finer points of farming, knowledge that most people in the country have not the means of obtaining except by attending an agricultural school. The teachers can go into the field, select good corn, tell a farmer what to do with his potatoes, graze his stock, and so on, and in this way the teacher imparts this knowledge to her pupils who leave the country to their schools of the county better able to assist in the farm work or equipped to start out on a farm for themselves.

After outlining the plan that was carried out by the Wood County Normal, Mr. Jackson answered numerous questions which showed they were pretty familiar with the work done here, the members of the State Board of Education spoke very highly of this plan. The point that they seemed particularly pleased with was the economic means offered for spreading agricultural information through the school system. They outlined a tentative plan in making this school system a success and it is hoped that the plan out in the future on a more extensive scale than it has been in the past.

That this school has previously been recognized for the work they have been doing is demonstrated by the fact that only one other school in the state of Wisconsin is receiving Federal Aid. This federal aid is an unusual advantage to a school as has enabled the local institution to carry out the "Two Weeks School" plan in this county. This affords farmer boys or others interested in agriculture throughout the county a chance to attend a short agricultural session in their community. Such a school is being conducted in Pittsville at the present time and according to the reports from that city is receiving the strongest support and enjoying a large attendance.

That the reputation of this school has spread farther than within the bounds of the state is shown by an article which appeared in the Virginia Journal of Education in a recent issue. The article is written by Mrs. F. C. Beverley, of Whitwell, Virginia, who visited the County Normal here last fall. When Mrs. Beverley arrived for her visit Prof. Jackson told her that he was afraid she had come at the wrong time, as the entire agricultural class was out working in a corn field in the county. She naturally surprised the visitor, but she decided that this was just the right time to see the teachers doing just what is the aim of every institution to have their teachers capable of doing. Mrs. Beverley was taken out to the field where the seed corn was being selected, and in the Journal she says:

"A visit to the Wood County Training school, Grand Rapids, Wisconsin, has left very pleasant memories. Prof. M. H. Jackson, with his strong crops of teachers, is doing much for the schools of Wood County. Again the work of the graduate was followed up in the school room with pleasing results."

"The doing of useful things and doing them efficiently is not forgotten by Prof. Jackson. Our pupils must be provided with a small but advanced educational diet if they are to become doers as well as thinkers. When the writer asked to visit the agricultural class, information was given that they were three miles out in the country, saving a neighbor's seed corn. It was an inspiring trip to drive out and see forty-four girls and one boy in the corn field, performing this patriotic duty. Wood county had imported $20,000 worth of seed corn the year before and the pupils were doing their bit to avoid a repetition of that record. The farmer had saved sufficient seed for his own use and he had promised to market what was saved on that day. The Women's Council had helped to furnish the transportation and the pupils were happy in their work, under the direction of Mr. Corey, agricultural director."

"We must rapidly learn the lesson from Wood County that the field can be made a part of the school plant. We cannot educate by a study of abstract things from books, it must be coupled with 'out of school' activities."

Roy Sweet, who has been conducting the Grand Rapids Auto Trimming Co. on Second street, has closed his business and leased the Trimming Ranch near Bancroft which he will operate for the coming year. Mr. Sweet expects to take possession of the farm next week.

COMPANY K IS EXPECTING
RIFLE CLUB EQUIPMENT

The bonds required for the securing of the Rifle Club equipment for Company K have been filled out and forwarded to the Superintendent of Marksmanship at Washington, and it is expected that the equipment for the club will be here before long. The materials that are expected include four hundred Krag Jorgensen Rifles, two Springfield and two gallery rifles, 16,000 rounds of ammunition for the large rifles and 11,000 rounds for the 22 caliber pieces. This will place the club on a working basis and it is expected that some interesting events will be pulled off when the equipment arrives.

P. C. Daly remembered his friends in Co. K during the past week when he donated a load of coal to the company. Percy says that the week or so was the best he ever spent if it did cost him $72 emmergence.

The company have been making a few apologies for the bowling team but while they are waiting for the alley hounds to get the kinks out of their backs they are depending on the basketball team to uphold their athletic honors.

MORTIMER WILSON
MAY GET PARDON

A movement has been started by the Prison Reform Association of this state to pardon Mortimer Wilson, slayer of Grant Beardsley of this city, Wilson is stated to have been in very poor health for some time past and has been confined to a tubercular ward due to his broken down physical condition.

The story of the murder no doubt stands very prominent in the minds of Grand Rapids people. Wilson, disguised with a handkerchief over his face, hid in the Beardsley barn, awaiting Grant Beardsley's return from the store. Wilson had been employed in the store as a delivery boy and was familiar with the fact that Beardsley was in the habit of bringing the store's money home with him at night. When Mr. Beardsley came to the barn and started to unlock the horse Wilson stepped out and commanded him to throw up his hands, Beardsley was under the impression that it was some one coming to help him instead of a burglar. Wilson, armed with a revolver, turned around and took the bridge off the horse. Wilson fired and instead of attempting to rob became frightened and fled. Beardsley fell with a bullet in his abdomen.

Beardsley was rushed to the hospital but in spite of all that could be done for him passed away the following morning. Later in the evening the body was taken to the county jail and the Lincoln School yard and identified by a local merchant as one that he had sold Wilson that day. Wilson was located at the home of some friends of his where a party was in progress. When accused he at first took the matter lightly denying the guilt but when pressed with questions became confused and admitted that he was the guilty man. He was taken to Wausau the following morning due to some threats of violence on the part of the local people and later to Stevens Point where he was sentenced to a life term in the state prison.

A. C. Petrie, President of the Prison Reform Association, was in the city the first of the week, stating that Wilson's case was being looked up by the governor. The governor to grant his pardon. Rev. Petrie, who is at present pastor of the Congregational church at Clintonville in addition to his work as visiting Chaplain of the Reform Association, states that from all appearances Wilson was never given much of a chance to fight his case at the time he was sentenced. Following the murder Wilson was rushed to Wausau and then to Stevens Point where he was convicted. It is stated that he never had an attorney to represent him and pleaded guilty to the charge with the assurance that he would be shown clemency. The result was that when he admitted his guilt he was given the limit and had completed six years of his sentence on October 10. How the governor will feel on the matter depends probably on how plausible the Association grounds for pardon appear, however, due to the break down in Wilson's health it is expected that he will be released.

New features that are included in the proposed law will permit mitigation of a sick stranger who had attempted to swindle local merchants on an advertising card, having secured several ads for the proposition of a local printer, without having paid for them. The scheme was a smooth one but not quite slick enough to fool Chief Payne, who locked the matter up and caught the culprit down at Berlin. The man gave his name as Geo. H. Schapper and came across with the sea with was due the local printer.

GOES TO INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL

Sam Britton, colored, aged fifteen, was committed to the Industrial School at Waukesha at the request of the County Court on Tuesday. Sam lives with his mother down at Neenah and had become quite a character around town. He had been a little bit shy about going to school and as he will be given a chance to learn a trade at the Industrial school it was decided best to send him down to Waukesha. Britton took him down to Waukesha this week.

LOCAL ATTORNEY CHOSEN

Atty. Theo. W. Brazeau, of the firm of Goggins, Brazeau & Goggins, has been retained by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul and the Chicago & Northwestern railroads as Assembly Representative. This means that Mr. Brazeau will be down at Madison a good deal looking out for the railroads' interest there. The appointment speaks highly of Mr. Brazeau's ability.

WANTS MOUNTED POLICE

Assemblyman W. B. Chilson of Merrill has drafted a bill which he intends to present to the State Legislature by which he seeks to create a state constabulary or mounted police, which he says will serve to check Bolshevism in the state, and also to check the lawless element of the game and conservation commission to enforce game and fish laws.

BOUGHT SECOND HAND STORE

S. V. Topping, formerly of this city, but who at present is farming below Neenah, bought the Second Hand Store on First street near Geo. T. Rowland store last week. The store was formerly owned and run by Ed. Stillwell, whose ill health has led him to sell out and enter into some more healthful pursuit. Mr. Topping has secured a man to the store for him and will continue to live on his farm for the present.

A PICTORIAL BANQUET
Lyman H. Howe's new Travel Festival, which comes to Daly's Theatre on Saturday, March 8th, matinee and night, has aptly been termed a "pictorial banquet."

The program embraces such a wealth of diversified material that it cannot fail to appeal to the tastes of all who attend. It is a feast of education and entertainment, including an up-to-the-minute excursion thru Yellowstone National Park, a ride in a maneuvering airplane over the city of Washington, the capture of monster sea-monsters in the South Seas, a picturesque journey through Japan, rarely beautiful pictures of clouds, exciting glimpses of Italian ski soldiers in action in the Alps, a strenuous hunting and fishing trip in the Canadian wilds, a lucid explanation of the insignia of the United States Army, now and various accomplishments of powerful caterpillar tractors, and a copious measure of those delectable animated cartoons and film novelties which are so characteristic of the Howe entertainments.

Frank Eberhardt of the town of Grant, Portage county, is a business visitor in the city today.

CO. RURAL CARRIER
HELD MEETING HERE
George Specht, of Marshfield was elected president of the Wood County Rural Mail Carriers Association at their annual meeting, which was held in the Odd Fellows Hall in this city, Washington's Birthday, February 22nd. Other officers elected were: D. J. Robinson, Arpin, Vice-President and Ed. Duxholmer, Marshfield, Secretary and Treasurer. Delegates to the State Convention of Rural Mail Carriers, which will be held at Whitewater next summer are: Ed. Kennedy, Auburndale; George Specht, Marshfield and Ed. Duxholmer of Marshfield.

Practically all the rural mail carriers in the county were at the meeting and when the entire assembly with their wives were gathered, about sixty persons were present. The morning session started at ten o'clock and was of a business nature. Postmaster R. L. Nash addressed the carriers and the meeting was taken up with questions. Mr. Nash spoke of how the service had improved the last few years and gave some good suggestions as to how it can still be improved to benefit the farmers in the county. Any who had any questions or problems brought them up and the carriers did their best to solve them or offer some remedy.

What was stated to be the feature of the gathering was the sumptuous dinner that was served at 12:30. The meal had been prepared by Mrs. Fred Engel, Mrs. Ernest Miller and Mrs. Reinhold Timm, wives of local carriers, and was said to exceed anything of this nature that has been attempted since Mr. Hoover put some restrictions on food. The afternoon was taken up with a social session and the visitors left for their homes about five o'clock.

IS SERIOUSLY ILL
Mrs. F. C. Wood of Luncheon, who has been visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. L. Hayward, was taken seriously ill about a week ago and is at present confined to her bed, showing but little improvement.

Mr. and Mrs. Wood came up for a visit about three weeks ago and it was while here that Mrs. Wood took sick. Her daughter, Mrs. F. A. Patterson of Luncheon spent Tuesday and Wednesday with her mother at the Hayward home.

Short-Term Issue Is Urged by Committee—Campaign Opens in April.

EACH TENTATIVE DECISION

House Committee Would Put $7,000,000 Limit, on Which Treasury Now Plans to Issue Only About $3,000,000,000.

Washington, Feb. 21.—Short-term notes, maturing in from one to five years, would be offered in the forthcoming Victory Liberty loan campaign, instead of long-term notes, under a tentative agreement reached by the House Ways and Means committee to the terms of the loan by legislation rather than to give Secretary Glass the discretionary powers to determine them, as he had asked.

At the same time Secretary Glass in a statement explained that the interest on the proposed campaign would be determined by Congress, and that would not be later than April 21. The secretary had asked Congress to set other bonds or notes, as market conditions at the time might warrant, at members of the committee concluded that a new loan issue would be necessary to carry it such a high rate of interest that financial markets might be adversely affected for some time.

Under the tentative agreement of the committee Secretary Glass would be given discretion of issuing any one of several of four kinds of notes, to be described by the legislation. The quantity of these nonnegotiable securities would be limited to probably $7,000,000,000, of which the treasury now plans to issue only about $3,000,000,000.

The principal features of each of the four kinds of notes proposed were as follows:

One class would be at a low rate of interest, possibly 4 per cent, and except from all federal taxation; one would be at a comparatively high rate, possibly 5 per cent, and subject to all federal taxes; a third would bear a moderate rate of interest—4½ per cent—and would be exempt from normal income taxes; the fourth would be exempt from taxation up to a certain amount.

These terms have not yet been decided, but treasury officials said the proposed alternatives would satisfy the treasury department.

The ways and means committee also tentatively decided not to increase the authorization for issuance of bonds from $5,000,000,000 to $10,000,000,000. This means that the treasury still would have power to issue up to $5 billion in Liberty bonds at the 4½ per cent rate of the last two issues, and with the same terms. It is possible that some of the notes to be issued would be convertible in the next three or four years into Liberty bonds of longer maturity.

The draft of the proposed legislation for the short-term notes was ordered by the committee, and its experts began immediately to consider the plan, or the new measure.

GERMANS ACCEPT NEW ARMISTICE

Terms Agreed to as the Time Limit Draws Near—Minister Resigns.

HUNS AGAIN BOW TO FOCH

Dispatches From Germany Show Truce Conference Was Occasion for Revival of Old Prussian Swastick.

Paris, Feb. 19.—"Marshall Foch," says the official communiqué of the supreme war council, "informed the ministers of the allied and associated powers of the acceptance by the Germans of the conditions for the revival of the armistice." By the terms of the new agreement, which constitutes the third renewal of the armistice, the Germans must promptly and strictly fulfill all the clauses of the armistice of November 11, December 12 and January 16.

Germany has again bowed to Foch. The armistice renewal was signed at Tressow, after the German commission, headed by Matthias Erzberger, had tried to the last to bargain, quibble, protest and then threaten.

"Sign on this dotted line," was the answer to Foch to all these attempts, and finally, as the time of grace was almost up, the Germans, still protesting, signed.

The agreement prolongs the armistice indefinitely, but gives the allies the right to break off the truce at three days' notice if Germany does not religiously live up both to the spirit and the letter of the terms as laid down by Foch.

Dispatches from Germany show the truce conference was the occasion for a considerable revival of the old Prussian swastick. Impotent as they are, the militarists have again taken to the "swastick" and the "swastick" of the German people, now they are stirred.

Indeed, there are rumors of a cabinet crisis due to the signing of the new agreement.

Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, the foreign minister, a man of proved liberal and anti-militarist tendencies, had pleaded in a program of "peace without humiliation," but that program endangered by yielding to the allied demands on the armistice renewal, and is said to have threatened his resignation.

One report, unconfirmed, has it he resigned on Feb. 19, as soon as he heard that the German signatures were affixed to the document.

Meanwhile, still the commanding figure in the "fatherland" from the military standpoint, is carried by the new agreement, for it stipulates that the offensive against the Poles must be discontinued forthwith. It is also understood to contain demands for German evacuation of territories claimed by the Poles.

London, Feb. 18.—The terms of the new military treaty to be imposed on Germany as a part of the final peace conditions will, according to the Daily Mail's Paris correspondent, include in addition to the destruction of the fortifications of Heligoland and the Kiel canal and the opening of the canal to traffic, the immediate surrender of certain warships which have not yet been given up as required and the conversion of the status of the German fleet in the Skagga fiord from that of internment to surrender.

Under the tentative agreement of the committee Secretary Glass would be given discretion of issuing any one of several of four kinds of notes, to be described by the legislation. The quantity of these nonnegotiable securities would be limited to probably $7,000,000,000, of which the treasury now plans to issue only about $3,000,000,000.

The principal features of each of the four kinds of notes proposed were as follows:

These terms have not yet been decided, but treasury officials said the proposed alternatives would satisfy the treasury department.

The ways and means committee also tentatively decided not to increase the authorization for issuance of bonds from $5,000,000,000 to $10,000,000,000. This means that the treasury still would have power to issue up to $5 billion in Liberty bonds at the 4½ per cent rate of the last two issues, and with the same terms. It is possible that some of the notes to be issued would be convertible in the next three or four years into Liberty bonds of longer maturity.

AUSTRIA-HUNGARY—Empire divided into separate republics of Austria, Hungary, Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia. RED CROSS CHIEFS CHANGE

Frederick C. Monroe of Salem, Mass., Appointed General Manager to Succeed G. E. Scott of Chicago.

Washington, Feb. 19.—Administrative changes, incident to reorganization to a peace basis, announced by the American Red Cross. Frederick C. Monroe of Salem, Mass., has been appointed general manager to succeed George E. Scott of Chicago, who will continue with the organization as a member of the executive committee. Samuel M. Greer of Baltimore has resigned as assistant general manager and will be succeeded, effective March 1, by Dr. Guy B. Stuevel, assistant manager of the southern division. L. J. Hunter of New York, now serving as deputy controller, will become controller March 1.

Washington, Feb. 19.—Three naval aviator cadets, who were compelled to alight at sea off the lower California coast because of engine trouble, were rescued by seaplanes and submarine chasers after being 24 hours without food and water. The aviators were Ensign Thomas Southworth, pilot; J. C. Gamble and A. S. Mairs.

Apog French Patriotic Deeds. Paris, Feb. 18.—M. Thichard, the last survivor of the Alsace and Lorraine deputies who in 1871 signed a protest against the annexation of those two provinces to Germany, is dead, aged ninety-four years.

Earthquake Rocks California. Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 19.—An earthquake shock lasting almost a minute was felt at 8:45 a. m. at virtually every point in southern California. No damage has been reported from any section, however.

Troops Left in Belfast. Belfast, Feb. 18.—Gas and electric service, which has been cut off for three weeks because of strikes, was resumed under military protection, the troops having taken possession of the gas works and the electric light plant.

Riots in Berlin. Copenhagen, Feb. 18.—Rioting has broken out in Berlin, where more than 40,000 warehouse workers have gone on strike. It was reported in dispatches received here. Other workers have walked out in sympathy.

Lobby to Be Abolished. Washington, Feb. 17.—Panama's national lottery will be discontinued after December 31, 1923. A dispatch to the state department said a tax bill, carrying an amendment to abolish the institution had been passed.

Try to Halt Deportations. New York, Feb. 17.—Consul for 35 alien agitators being held at Ellis island for deportation left here for Washington to examine records of the immigration department in a further attempt to save them.

To Protest Dry Amendment. New York, Feb. 18.—Plans for a campaign against prohibition were held by members of the Association proposed to National Prohibition, after a meeting, in which local and liquor men from all over the country joined.

Ukrainians Gain at Lemberg. Vienna, Feb. 18.—Wireless dispatches received from Kiev indicate that the fighting is being pushed about Lemberg, with the Ukrainians claiming gains in an attempt to cut off the railway lines of the Poles into the city.

The Housewife and Her Work

(Special Information Service, United States Department of Agriculture)

HOMES MADE BETTER HER GOAL AND REWARD

The Demonstration Agent's Little Car Often Carries New Life for Discouraged Women.

ARIZONA FAMILY STAYED ON FARM

Extension Worker Shows a Tired Housekeeper How to Lighten Her Home Labors.

MADE LIFE MORE CHEERFUL

Work of Home Demonstration Agent Not Always Shown on Surface—Big Results Are Too Intangible to Be Listed.

Reduced to figures, the work of a home demonstration agent or a county agent does not always truly indicate the magnitude and the character of the extension work under the supervision of the U. S. department of agriculture and the state colleges. But big movements are made up of countless well-known trifles.

"Helped 340 women reform their lard, showed 150 how to make bread without lard. Nothing seems very little in such an account from a home demonstration agent, and where imagination is lacking it appears like petty work for the United States government to foster. The big results, though real and important, are too intangible to be listed in any report, and they are often overlooked.

"The actual assistance given to a family in western Arizona by the home demonstration agent was summarized as 'instrumental in installing a dish drainer in the D's home,' helped Mrs. D. make some home-made lard. The complete returns would show that by making a wife contented she enabled a man who was a born farmer to stay a home producer rather than to move to a nearby city and enter a field already overcrowded with workers.

In one county of western Arizona the home demonstration agent told her little audience, composed of wives of ranchers: 'If any of you would like me to come to your home and talk over your individual problems, I would be very glad to go.' There was a pause. The extension worker was now in that county. It was quite evident that most of them felt their individual problems were not the kind which could be solved by outside help. Finally, a discouraged-looking little woman, perhaps feeling that she had reached the place where she was willing to try anything, listlessly said she would be glad to see the speaker the next day.

Under a burning sun the agent drove her little machine through thick dust to a dilapidated, one-room shack. Warm out in working against too heavy odds, with little knowledge of housework and no conveniences, the woman had lost all ambition to improve her home, and her husband was too busy with farm work. Everything was at sixes and sevens, and swarms of flies added the last depressing touch.

Practical Housekeeping Needed. The extension worker was surprised when she learned that her disappointed hostess was a graduate of a famous eastern college, where she had specialized in music. There was little opportunity now to use her musical knowledge, but there was much for home economics, which had not been included in her curriculum.

The dish washing, which the home demonstration agent's coming had interrupted, was resumed. Anxious to help, the agent hesitated—so cold and slippy was the dish water, and so nauseating the half-washed dishes, which were to be dried on a wet and none-too-clean towel. Feeling some apology was necessary, Mrs. D. confessed she had lost heart trying to make things habitable. All she did, day after day, was cook, wash dishes, and mind the baby. Her husband had promised not to rent the ranch again, but to move into town in the spring, and she said she was enduring until that happy time came. Of all the tasks she loathed, she hated most the dish washing, and she said she would try to do it better.

Of Interest to the Housewife An ordinary tapioca pudding can be made rich with the addition of dates and raisins.

Save the fat from chicken, render it, and you have a good substitute for butter when making cake.

Sprinkle a little water over the ashes when removing from the stove to prevent their blowing about.

If something you are cooking happens to scorch, set the kettle in cold water immediately and there will be absolutely no scorched taste. This is worth trying.

When ink stains disfigure a favorite bit of linen, blot the stains generously with lemon juice, cover with a dusting of salt and place in the sun for a few hours.

RAILWAY PROBLEM IS VERY SERIOUS

CONGRESS NOT YET IMPRESSED WITH ITS GRAVITY, DESPITE WORK OF COMMITTEES.

SENATOR CUMMINGS' WARNING

Memories of the Clark-Daly Contest Revived by the Newberry-Ford Case—Senator Wadsworth Says Hun Shows No Repentance.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington.—Although two committees are working very hard, or at least have been giving considerable time to hearing men talk, congress is not impressed with the gravity of the railroad situation. President Wilson's message at the beginning of the present session, while devoted almost exclusively to the peace conference and the results of the war, devoted to the extent of giving a little attention to the railroad situation and warning congress that some action was necessary. Subsequently General Director McAdoo intimated that the railroads were going to be turned back to their owners immediately if congress did not provide for government control for a period of five years instead of 21 months after peace was proclaimed. McAdoo said it was not worth while to try to work out the railroad problem in the time limit set by legislation.

Senator Cummings of Iowa in a rather remarkable speech in the senate, although it did not seem to attract much attention, could scarcely find adjectives of sufficient force to express his feelings. He said that the railroads were a great problem in the high cost of living is to find out where these reductions should begin, whether the prices of food and other necessities shall be reduced first, or whether there shall first be a cut in wages. Labor interests everywhere are strenuously objecting to making the first sacrifice, either in the reduction of wages or in laying off men. According to telegrams which have been coming to Washington from various parts of the country, it appears that there has been a great cessation of employment and many thousands of men have been laid off in various cities and towns in many parts of the country. It is not expected that laying off men and stopping production will soon reduce the cost of living, although in time it will tend in that direction.

const. To get rid of those people without causing hardship is quite difficult while officers in charge of the various stations must be maintained at the maximum until peace is declared. Secretary Daniels has cut this knot by ordering a 50 per cent reduction.

There seems to be a disposition to keep up high priced organizations, to keep officers in the service, to maintain buildings and pay rents, all of which costs a great deal of money. Yet there are many soldiers discharged who do not know exactly what they are going to do to earn a living. Complaints and criticisms of the methods of demobilization have been heard quite frequently in congress and letters of complaint from people all over the country have been read or printed in the proceedings.

The first strict party vote which has occurred in the United States senate for a long time was on the Newberry-Ford contest from Michigan. It was not of very much importance and came up on a question of sustaining a ruling by Vice President Marshall. The fact that the Democrats voted one way and the Republicans another indicates that this case may have decided on strict party lines. Only once before in this session has there been anything like a close party vote. That was on a question as to whether census employees should be appointed under civil service rules or without restrictions. Senator Sutherland of West Virginia carried the vote, but the Democrats against placing the census employees under civil service.

Congressman Garner of Texas registered a "kick" in the house on the passport restrictions now in force between this country and Mexico. It seems that during the war people who wanted to go to Mexico from the United States or to come from Mexico to this country had to have passports—unless they were willing to take the chance of being shot by crossing the border without them. Garner's complaint was that some of his constituents who merely wanted to make a journey of 50 miles or so into Mexico and come back the same day were required to furnish passports, which meant a great deal of delay.

It is not expected that laying off men and stopping production will soon reduce the cost of living, although in time it will tend in that direction.

A great problem in teaching reductions in the high cost of living is to find out where these reductions should begin, whether the prices of food and other necessities shall be reduced first, or whether there shall first be a cut in wages. Labor interests everywhere are strenuously objecting to making the first sacrifice, either in the reduction of wages or in laying off men. According to telegrams which have been coming to Washington from various parts of the country, it appears that there has been a great cessation of employment and many thousands of men have been laid off in various cities and towns in many parts of the country. ONE TYPE OF POULTRY FOR EACH COMMUNITY

The Community Breeding Club Promotes and Develops One Breed and by Centralization Improves the Marketing Conditions.

COMMUNITY CLUB GAINING FAVOR

Each Member Can Work Out Problems in Direct Co-operation With His Neighbors.

HAPHAZARD WAYS REPLACED

Fowls of General Purpose Type Are Most Popular—Advisable for Farmers to Get Backing of Local Business Men.

When one speaks of Poultry, Cal., has imagination immediately pictures flocks of single-comb White Leghorns. The mention of the Little Compton district of Rhode Island is synonymous with Rhode Island Reds, while Vineland, N. J., spells single-comb White Leghorns to poultrymen. Community centralization for the promotion and improvement of one breed of poultry in each of these cases has resulted in the development of extensive and profitable poultry industries. The United States department of agriculture commends the idea to other communities.

One Standard for Community Hens.

Boys' and girls' poultry clubs in various sections of the country have been an education to both young and old and have acted as pioneers for the subsequent formation of community poultry breeding associations. Each member is interested in the betterment of one breed and can work out his local problems in direct co-operation with his neighbors, the community interest of the locality being centered in the improvement of this breed. With the growth of the business the district soon becomes known as a source of large supplies of fowls and eggs for market purposes. The breeding stock and blooded chicks, increased interest in the farm boys and the practice of approved poultry management always replace the previous haphazard, shiftless methods of handling fowls after the co-operative community club has been organized.

The Poultrymen (V.L.) Barred Plymouth Rock association is an interesting example of what can be accomplished in community hen raising. During the first five months of its history this organization sold $7,500 worth of poultry products. The club has now been incorporated with capital stock of $7,500, and hires a manager to handle its business affairs. The last report from this association shows that the members had on hand 6,000 Barred Plymouth Rock hens, while they had marketed 1,000 capons during the spring.

Seventeen counties in Kentucky have organized community poultry clubs recently and have distributed 88,000 eggs among their members for the foundations of one-breed flocks. Christian county, Kentucky, has already established itself as a White Leghorn district.

Hens for Community Clubs.

The fowls of the general-purpose type, such as Plymouth Rocks, Wyandottes or Rhode Island Reds, are most popular for the use of community poultry clubs. Most of the members of the associations are farmers who wish to raise dual-purpose fowls which are adapted for both egg and meat production. However, some special-purpose egg clubs have been formed, such as the Franklin county (Virginia) White Leghorn association, composed of 75 members, which markets its eggs in New York. There are six similar White Leghorn county clubs in Tennessee, which also ship their eggs to New York.

How to Start a Club.

In organizing a community poultry club it is always advisable for the farmers to get the backing of the local business men. Generally when the tradesmen are shown that the club together with the community they are not remote about adding the enterprise. Funds secured from the business men may be devoted to the purchase of purchased stock for distribution.

Raising Ducks.

If ducklings are raised under hens it is advisable to confine the hens and allow the ducklings free range, as the hens are apt to wander too far away from their broods.

The Hitter in the Poultry House.

The litter in the poultry house should be renewed often or it will become damp and foul, disease and death resulting.

Charcoal is a Great Cleanser of the Digestive System.

The best way to give it is pulverized and mixed with the mash, wet or dry.

The Birds Should Be Protected from the Cold and Yet Not Kept Too Warm.

They will stand intense cold better than a warm temperature.

Fowls which are confined to the poultry house during severe weather must have plenty of green food of some kind.

The matter of proper feeding of flocks during the winter months makes all the difference in the world in egg production.

You cannot expect eggs in winter if you deprive your hens entirely of the things that form the large part of their summer ration, namely, green food and animal food.

PLAGUE MADE DIRE RECORD

Reasonable Grounds for Estimating That Influenza Has Cost the Lives of Six Million Persons.

Though estimates of deaths over the whole world from any single epidemic are very difficult to form, there seem to be reasonable grounds for believing that some 6,000,000 persons have perished of influenza and pneumonia during the last comparatively few weeks. Business has been interfered with by the epidemic in every country in the world, and enormous losses both in earning power and in trade have been suffered. The cost of the "influenza war" cannot be reckoned, but that it is colossal does not admit of doubt.

This plague, then, generally regarded with equanimity, is, it would seem, five times more deadly than war. It has been estimated that the war caused the death of 20,000,000 persons in four and one-half years, writes a physician in the London Evening News. In the same period of its epidemic rate influenza would have killed 108,000,000. The visits of the killing dethos to London were but as a summer shower compared with the deluge of germs which we have just received. The air raids cost London some hundreds of lives; the influenza has cost it upwards of 10,000.

Never since the black death has such a plague swept over the face of the world; never, perhaps, has a plague been more stoically accepted. In India alone over 3,000,000 deaths occurred. Bombay had 15,000 of these deaths in a population of 800,000. In 1918 a day. The Punjab lost 250,000 persons. South Africa suffered no less severely. In Cape Town 2,000 children were left destitute as a result of the disease, while the plague swept through the native areas like fire. The commonwealth of Australia sent a ship to Samoa with help because the disease was affecting 80 per cent of the natives. The white population were only able to feed the living and bury the dead. In New Zealand public services were stopped and business gravely disorganized. The ravages in America have been appalling, not but Canada escaped. In Ontario and the western provinces not fewer than 105 doctors died of the epidemic, while the total death rate in Ontario alone was 5,000 up to November. A large number of American Indians have perished, Europe as a whole has suffered in the same way. In Spain the epidemic was described as "truly awful." In Barcelona the death rate was cruelly stated to be 1,200 daily. France has had her share, likewise Germany and Austria.

Shows Are Helpful.

Annual poultry shows have been attractive popular features of the operations of several of the community clubs. Fowls raised by the members of the association are exhibited in competition for prizes presented by local merchants and business men in the sections where the shows are held. These exhibitions, in addition to being of special educational value, are also effective in promoting friendly competition among the members of the club. Instructional lectures on poultry management usually are delivered at these gatherings by representatives of the state agricultural college or other qualified parties.

Now Presidents Rich.

The Roosevelt fortune was different, moreover, in being mainly an inherited fortune. His personal life may have added to it his life's fortune, but, as in the case of other presidents, most of his personal earnings in a period of forty years of public life were absorbed in the support of his family. No other president has ever enjoyed such advantages of remunerative publicity as Mr. Roosevelt, and besides his salary from official positions his income from his books and from editorial work must have been large. Yet it is a fair inference that if these had been the sole sources of his support he would have died a poor man, as Cleveland did, and most of his predecessors in the White House.

This has been the common financial fate of presidents, and the example of Mr. Roosevelt probably merely proved the rule that the office of president is not economically productive in any logical proportion to its exalted state and onerous political qualifications.

A Different Vacation.

Alderman Louis B. Anderson, who is endowed with a keen sense of humor, can as a rule be depended upon to bring out the latest story finding favor among "the brethren."

A story handed to Alderman Anderson by some of the boys concerns Sam Jones, who stood 6 feet 4 inches in his stocking feet, and was in training of one of the southern camps. One day the officers undertook the organization of a regimental band.

"Anybody been a bugler?" asked the commandant. "No, sir," answered the boys. "Play a few notes to show us how good a bugler you are," was the next direction.

"Huh! huh!" exclaimed the commandant. "No bugling. I thought you said huh! huh!"—Chicago American.

The Strasburg Clock.

A correspondent writes that it is not at every hour that the procession of the twelve apostles makes the round of the famous clock at Strasburg, says a London paper. That takes place only at midday by middle European time. The quarters of each hour are struck by the figures of a child, a young man, an adult man, and an old man in their order, while an elf of death appears and strikes each full hour. Many marvelous astronomical phenomena are also shown on the clock, which automatically regulates itself at midnight on the last day of each month. It is not generally known, but the way that a model of the entire temple can be seen any day by Londoners in the Horniman museum at Forest Hill.

Wireless and Morale.

Since the armistice brought hostilities to an end it has been learned that the morale of the population of Lille was maintained by news given from a French wireless station hidden from the Germans, according to Wireless Age.

Good news spread quickly through underground channels. The people knew that ten thousand American soldiers were arriving daily. Air planes also dropped many leaflets, which were eagerly taken despite German efforts to prevent their distribution.—Scientific American.

Heard in the Pantry.

The Turnip—Heard about the sad fate in the kitchen. The Cabbage—No, what was it? The Turnip—One of the onions got so strong it made the potato's eyes water.

Candid Preference.

"I'm doing my best to get mother and the girls to take an interest in votes for women," remarked Mr. Cunnor.

CHANGES POTATO GRADES

The potato grade recommended by the Department of Agriculture and the United States Food Administration, on September 10th, 1917, have been changed slightly. The revised grade specifications are stated below:

U. S. Grade No. 1—This grade shall consist of sound potatoes of similar, varietal characteristics, which are practically free (a) from dirt or other foreign matter, frost injury, sunburned, second growth, growth cracks, cuts, scabs, blight, soft rot, dry rot, and damage caused by disease, insects, or mechanical or other means.

The diameter (b) of potatoes of the round varieties shall be not less than one and seven-eighths inches and of potatoes of long varieties one and three-fourths inches.

In order to allow for the variations incident to commercial grading and handling, five per cent by weight of any lot may be under the prescribed size, and, in addition, six per cent by weight of any such lot may be below the remaining requirement of this grade; but not more than one-third of such six per cent, that is to say not more than two per cent by weight of entire lot may have the flesh injured by soft rot.

U. S. Grade No. 2—This grade shall consist of potatoes of similar varietal characteristics which are practically free from frost injury and soft rot, and which are free from serious damage (c) caused by sunburn, cuts, scabs, blight, dry rot, or other disease, insects, or mechanical or other means.

The diameter (b) of potatoes in this grade shall not be less than one and one-half inches.

In order to allow for the variations incident to commercial grading and handling, five per cent by weight of any lot may be under the prescribed size, and, in addition, six per cent by weight of any such lot may be below the remaining requirement of this grade; but not more than one-third of such six per cent, that is to say not more than two per cent by weight of entire lot may have the flesh injured by soft rot.

"Practically free" means that appearance shall not be injured to an extent readily apparent upon casual examination of the lot, and that any damage from the causes mentioned can be removed by the ordinary process of paring with out appreciable increase in waste over that which would occur if the potato were perfect. Loss of the outer skin only shall not be considered as an injury to the appearance.

Diameter means the greatest dimension at right angles to the longitudinal axis.

"Free from serious damage" means that any damage from the causes mentioned can be removed by the ordinary processes of paring without increase in waste of more than ten per cent by weight over that which would occur if the potato were perfect.

"Soft rot" means soft, mushy condition of the tissues, from what ever cause.

NEW LAW WILL BENEFIT
RETURNING FARMER BOYS

A new law which will come up at this session of the State Legislature will permit returning soldiers and others settling new and untitled land a chance to locate and operate their farms for a period of five years before any payment is made on the land. The law is designed primarily to assist returning soldiers, giving them a chance to come home and get settled down on a farm without requiring a large amount of capital to get started.

It is expected that a good share of the million of acres of undrained or unsettled land of the state will be settled in this way as soon as drainage can be effected, and many men who have given their time and efforts to win the war will have an opportunity to settle down on a farm of their own. In the past many farmers who attempted to start out on their own have failed because they were forced to put all their money into the purchase of the land, having nothing to operate on. Should the bill pass, they will get the land and will not have to make an initial payment nor pay interest for the first five years. However, they will be under contract to take the farm at the end of five years.

It is proposed to have the state set a fund of $500,000 aside to organize a land loan bank to handle this proposition.

Other legislation that may effect this district which Senator Witten will work for when it comes up is an extensive highway program that is being arranged. The present plan is to build 2,000 miles to the State Trunk Line highways which will probably mean that this district will get in on the good roads.

UNCLE SAM'S MINSTREL COMING

Uncle Sam's Yankee Minstrels will be with us soon at Daly's Theatre. Every member of this organization is a battle-scarred hero, and many of them have received special mention for their heroic deeds.

The show has been routed for ninety days and this city is one of the ninety fortunate cities that will be visited. A regular minstrel first part, will be given and a vaudeville program, including the famous Rainbow Quartette, Sgt. Ritchie, hero of Belleau Wood, the Saxophone Four and Van Laurence, the 87th regimental clown, will be some of the specialties, while the 8th Infantry Jazz Band and orchestra will furnish the musical end of the program.

Why Swift & Company Handle Poultry, Eggs, Butter and Cheese

Swift & Company went into the produce business because they saw a crying need for the kind of service they were equipped to perform.

The produce business was in chaos. Collecting, transportation, preparation and distribution was hit or miss, with delay, deterioration and loss on every hand.

The farmer was at the mercy of an uncertain, localized market. He had no way of reaching through to the people who needed what he was raising for them. There was no premium upon improving his stocks, for grading was lax or lacking.

The consumer had to accept produce that, as a rule, had no known responsible name behind it. He had no way of knowing how long the eggs or the butter he was buying had been lying around in miscellaneous lots in the back room of a country store. Much of the poultry was not properly refrigerated before shipment or properly protected by refrigeration in transit.

Swift & Company's initiative brought system to this chaos. Their organization, equipment, and experience in handling perishable food products were already adjusted to the task. Their refrigerator cars, branch houses, central points, far-reaching connections, trained sales force, supplied just what was demanded.

Now the farmer has a daily cash market in touch with the nation's needs with better prices. Standardization makes better produce more profitable. More consumers are served with better, fresher, finer foodstuffs.

Nothing suffers from this save inefficiency, which has no claim upon public support.

How a Desperado Was Eliminated

By OSCAR COX

Devil's parlor was probably the worst congregation of toughs, both for men and women, in that wild and woolly west, which may be said to have passed out with the nineteenth century. The Devil parlor of the name came from the number of crimes committed in the place. The parlor was intended to be a place of refuge for the lawless.

With the gradual rolling westward of civilization even Devil's parlor underwent a change. Some of the men married respectable women who in time caused the exit of those who were not respectable. The ladies took on more respectable appearance, white curtains appearing at the windows and flowers in the front yard. A court was established for the trial of offenders and there was even talk of a church. All good citizens were interested in the reform, and those who were not made no counter effort.

"This does not mean that all the bad characters were at once eliminated from Devil's parlor. Nevertheless there came a time when but one man of the original devils was left. Bill Tomkins had killed more adversaries than any other man at the place and he seemed bent on keeping up his record. The court that had been established could not handle his case, for no sheriff could find who dare attempt to arrest him. The men held a meeting and offered a reward to any one who would eliminate him either by arrest or death, but no one seemed willing to try for the prize.

The men having failed to carry out their design the young man held. They were all by this time respectable, except one of the old stock called Red-head Kate, and she was as bad for a woman as Bill Tomkins was for a man. "Ladies," said Mrs. Rogers, "it's my opinion that if you want to get rid of Bill Tomkins you'd better hire Red-head Kate to do the job. I propose that we offer her the reward subscribed by our husbands in circumstances. Bill and his men so he can't do no more damage to this town community. Red-head Kate isn't bad looking when she's well dressed, and being about my size I don't fear if I lend her some of my toggery to set her off."

The suggestion was approved, Red-head Kate was sounded, and the reward having been raised from $300 to $500, she agreed to eliminate Mr. Tomkins. She was arrayed in Mrs. Rogers' best dress and a hat so magnificent that it would have been envied by a drum major of a band. When asked if she would need a revolver she said she would not need "any such noisy thing." If she wanted to do Bill Tomkins she'd "mix a little piece in his liquor."

Red-head Kate was paid $250 down, the balance to be handed her upon her satisfying the ladies that Bill Tomkins would not trouble the town any more, though by this time his name had been changed to Angelus. Kate waited till Mr. Tomkins had gone off on an expedition for the purpose of plunder, when she also disappeared. Nothing was heard of her for two weeks, when she returned to Angelus, and with her, looking like a lamb led to the slaughter, was Bill Tomkins. Immediately on her return she asked for an interview with the ladies of Angelus, and on their coming together thus addressed them:

"Ladies, there's no need for me to tell you how I managed this case, for you've doubtless all practiced what I've done on your husbands. I played soft on Bill Tomkins, lettin' on he was the apple of my eye, givin' him his way about everything till he was ready to marry me. A justice of the peace done the business, and as soon as I'd got Bill where the law got me, I just came down on him with both feet. He took it hard at first, then tried fight. I met his fight with nag, and it didn't take no time to bring him under. But I'm bound to confess that I was obliged on various occasions to use sarcasm. One time I lifted one of his eyes from its socket with my thumb, and I bit a piece off his nose, and once I made him sick with diluted ratbane. But I wishes to say to those of you who's looking for methods to manage husbands that I found stiddy talkin' the most wearin' on him. I just talked and talked and talked. The quality of it was he said, 'Oh, gimme a rest, and I'll come down.'"

"And now I wants to tell you ladies that I really believe there's the makings of a man in Bill Tomkins. I done with him what we have to do with the bronchos. I got him under, then he was easy to the bit. I'll pledge my word that he was a trouble Devil's—I mean Angelus—any more, but will live with me as a respectable citizen. I'm willin' to leave the balance of the reward in your hands till you're satisfied that what I'm tellin' you is true. If at any time there's reason for complaint ag'in my husband I'll mention the fact to me. You needn't take no action yourselves. You've got all you can do managing your own husbands, and gimme a tip and I'll show you that we women don't need no help in doin' men. We got it all our own way if we know how the trick is done."

So perfect an illustration was Bill Tomkins of the value of Red-head Kate's talking that the balance of the reward was paid her, and now Deacon Tomkins is one of the most respected citizens of Angelus. His wife meanwhile has been advanced to the circle of the ladies.

WISCONSIN BOYS RETURN CONTROLLED BY PERSHING

Gov. Phillips has written the war department asking that the Thirty-second division, composed of the Wisconsin and Michigan national guards, be returned to Wisconsin from France as soon as possible. The war department has written him saying that releasing of troops was entirely in the hands of Gen. Pershing.

The governor's letter was sent to the secretary of war. The reply is made by Henry Jervay, major general, assistant chief of staff, director of operations.

"The order in which the troops shall return from France," Major Jervay wrote, "has been left entirely to the decision of Gen. Pershing, although terms of peace have not yet been agreed to and it is not beyond the troops may be utilized upon to engage in further activities."

"The duties of the army of occupation are of a very important and delicate nature. It is therefore necessary that Gen. Pershing have at his disposal tried, trained, and dependable troops, rather than new troops of unknown quality."

MAY DROP IN ON OLD GRAND RAPIDS FRIENDS

In the following interesting letter from Theron Lyon, this former Grand Rapids man indicates that he has not forgotten his old friends here and it may not be a great while before he is around again to see them. The letter follows:

St. Maries, Feb. 15 1918

Messrs. Drumb & Sutor
Grand Rapids, Wis.
Gentlemen:

I am enclosing check for two dollars ($2.00) to cover subscription for the year 1918. Expected as usual to get back to old Grand Rapids and visit old friends for a month or so but failed to come as intended.

The Mill Company I am with rather insisted on my staying and helping them out on their repair work which is always needed once a year in the winter months. But as our winter is a rule quit business about the first of February we are now running the mill and don't know when I will see my old friends back there, but from the fact that I am getting a little homesick and some lonesome I may drop in on them most any old time without notice.

We have had a very mild winter here with the exception of about twenty days the last of December and first few days of January when it made me think of old Wisconsin. It froze about 12 inches of fine ice in the river and put the steam boat line out of commission for a time but was a rich harvest for the ice man as it was the best yet. They have had here for years, but three days "Chinook" wind cleaned it out completely. I don't know whether I ever wrote you a description of this part of the country as I see it or not, but might later on if it would be acceptable but just now our boys from across the waters are sending letters which your readers would probably rather read than anything that I might write.

I take great interest in reading them as most of the boys I know and am proud of them. English and French eyes with what they could do but the "Gals" soon learned to their sorrow—if they ever had any.

Regards to all.
Yours truly,
Theron Lyon.

CLARK COUNTY FARMERS SWINDLED BY AGENTS

Another scheme, which is apparently a new get to relieve the wealthy farmers of their excess corn, has come to light over at Neillsville. The story the Neillsville paper tells of it follows:

Fred Trepton is in jail awaiting a hearing on the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. He was given a preliminary hearing on Monday before Judge Schoenharth and the hearing was postponed until next week.

It seems that Trepton and two or three other solicitors had been working in this end of the county for a couple of days, having completed their operations around Thorp and Stanley some months ago. Their plan is to sell memberships in the Consumers Service and Supply Co. in most anything of value. One man traded a young bull for a membership. The solicitors maintain that members in the service and supply company will be enabled to buy most anything they want at even lower prices than from mail order houses. They ask their members to make their selections of purchases from Sears, Roebuck, Montgomery Ward or any other large mail order catalogue and send the order to them. They agree to supply the purchase at less than the catalogue prices, but the experience of those bitten in the north end of the county is that a commission was charged them and which brought the purchase price even higher than that which would have been secured of the home merchant.

Fred Trepton booked quite a number in this vicinity in the two days he was at work, men who should know better, too. But the solicitors have smooth tongues and plausible stories coupled with a bewildering array of contracts, receipts and notes (heavy on the notes) and they were enabled to put across their plan in a number of instances. The Consumers Service and Supply Co. may be a reliable institution, but Judge Schoenharth is going to find out before lets Trepton go.

ORDER YOUR AUTO LICENSE NOW AND AVOID RUSH

If you own an automobile or motorcycle, and you intend to use it this summer, you will need a license plate. The time to order these plates is now. The office of the secretary of the state is now issuing license plates at the rate of 1,000 a day. As there are 200,000 motor vehicles in the state, which number will be augmented by more than 10,000 new cars before the automobile season begins, there is bound to be a jam in the number of applications between April 1st and June 1st. During this period are often obliged to wait from ten days to three weeks for their plates, which will cause no little inconvenience if traveling into the larger cities where the traffic cops are sure to "hawl" one out for not having their license plates upon their car. Applications for the registration of automobiles must be made to the secretary of state at Madison. The fees this year are: Passenger cars $10, trucks used entirely within the city limits of incorporated cities, or villages $10, trucks to be used outside of limits, carrying a capacity less than 5,100 pounds, $20; 5,100 pounds or more, $25; dealers, $25; motorcycles $4.

PAY AND FILE INCOME TAX BEFORE MAR. 15

U. S. Internal Revenue Bureau Gives Warning That Severe Penalties Will Be Enforced.

WOMEN WITHIN LAW'S SCOPE; HOW THEY REPORT INCOME

The Income Tax drive comes to a close on Saturday night, March 15. The payments and returns due on that date under the provisions of the new Revenue Law must be in the hands of local Internal Revenue Collectors before their offices close that night.

The Income Tax is being collected by the war expenses. Every person who should and could his home on Armistice Day is now called upon to contribute his share of the cost of winning the war.

The lagards and the dodgers will face severe fines and jail sentences. The Internal Revenue Bureau announces that its officers will check us all up to see that every person who comes within the scope of the Income Tax law did his share.

Where to Pay and File.

Residents of Wisconsin are required to make their returns and pay their taxes to Paul A. Hemmway, Milwaukee, or to Burt Williams, Madison, Collectors of Internal Revenue, or to any of the deputy collectors who are doing advisory work on Income Tax.

Payments sent by mail should be attached to the returns and should be in the form of check, money order or draft. Cash payments by mail are sent at the taxpayer's risk of loss.

If you are unable to make your return personally because of illness, absence or incapacity an agent or legal representative may make your return.

If there are any doubtful points as to your items of income or allowable deductions you should get in touch at once with a Revenue officer or a banker for advice.

Women Pay Tax.

Women are subject to all the requirements of the Income Tax. Whether single or married, a woman's income from all sources must be considered.

If unmarried or if living apart from her husband she must make her return for 1918 if her net income was $1,000 or over.

If married and living with her husband her income must be considered with the husband's in determining the liability for a return. Their joint income, less the credits allowed by law, is subject to normal tax. The wife's net income is considered separately in computing any refund or credit due on the husband and wife file jointly, as a rule. If the husband does not include his wife's income in his return the wife must file a separate return.

Severe Penalties.

The new Revenue Law places severe penalties on a person who fails to make return on time, refuses to make return or renders a fraudulent return. For failure to make return and pay tax on time a fine of not more than $1,000 is named and 25 per cent of the tax due is added to the assessment. For refusing willfully to make return or for making a false or fraudulent return there is a fine of not exceeding $10,000 and imprisonment of not exceeding one year, or both.

Farmers' Income Taxable.

Every farmer, ranchman who had a fair or a good year in 1918 must head the Income Tax this year. He must consider all his income as taxable. He is entitled to deduct from his gross income all amounts expended in carrying on his farm. The cost of farm machinery, farm buildings and improvements cannot be deducted. The cost of live stock, either for resale or for breeding purposes, is also regarded as investment.

Overtime and Bonuses Taxed.

Salary and wage earners must consider as taxable every item received from employers and from other sources. Bonuses and overtime pay are to be reported as well as the regular pay.

Allowances for Losses.

Losses sustained in 1918 and not covered by insurance are deductible items if incurred in the taxpayer's business or trade, in any transaction undertaken for profit or arising from fire, storm, shipwreck or other casualty or from theft.

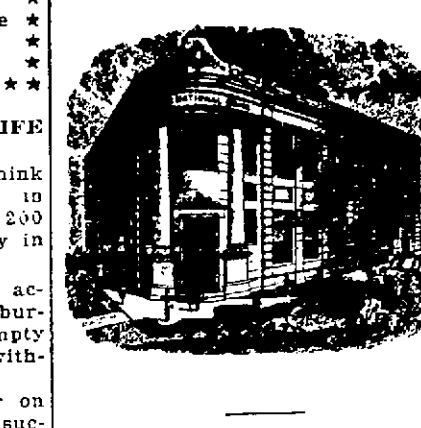

NEARLY LOST HIS FOOT

Bert Wilson of Plainfield, came near losing his foot in an accident that occurred there last week, and is now in the hospital in Milwaukee where he is receiving medical attention. Wilson was working with a gang cutting ice on the lake there. An attempt was being made to move the ice cutting machine and Wilson slipped, his foot coming into contact with the saw. The foot was nearly severed but the flesh held the limb together and a doctor was summoned. An attempt is being made to save the foot and it is now hoped the man will not suffer any further loss than the amputation of four toes.

MANY HABITS MAKE UP A LIFE

If you pluck a dandelion you think you have a single flower, but, in reality, you have from 150 to 200 flowers, because each golden ray in the rosette is a blossom in itself.

A weed? Why, maybe it is according to the farmer or the suburbanite. But imagine how empty and dull the roadside would be without it.

Sometimes we put our finger on one trait or characteristic of a successful person and say, "That is why he has accomplished so much." But it isn't any more true than that one of the golden rays makes a dandelion.

It takes a great many different habits to make up our life and upon the co-ordination of those habits will depend in great part of our success or failure. But, first of all in the study of habits, sort out the good from the bad. Then eliminate as rapidly as possible those that are harmful, remembering that the older a habit the harder it is to uproot.—Ex.

Justice of the Peace, W. H. Getts, has received word from Oregon. Wis that his nephew, Pvt. Finley Getts, has been awarded the Distinguished Service Medal for extraordinary heroism and exceptional devotion to duty during the days of Nov. 3, 4, 5. During this time Private Finley Getts was continuously on the alert and was sent out on a mission, altho he was compelled to go thru machine gun and artillery barrage, until he had fully gained information wanted by his battalion commander. Conspicuous courage and devotion to duty was shown by Private Finley Getts when on the afternoon of Nov. 4, it was necessary to know exact location of G and H companies. Altho three runners and east came. Altho three runners had been wounded in the effort to get this information, Private Finley Getts volunteered to get same. In securing this information and taking very important messages to the company commanders of E and G companies, Private Getts was compelled to swim the river Muese and crawl on his stomach across the flats and under continuous machine gun and artillery fire, remaining in camp for more than one hour. Private Getts not only secured exact information, desired, but also returned immediately and delivered same to his battalion commander.

She was a big, husky woman, a best dress and a hat so magnificent that it would have been envied by a drama major of a band. When asked if she would need a revolver she said she would not need "any such thing." If she wanted to do Bill Tomkins she'd "mix a little piece in his liquor."

Redhead Kate was paid $250 down, the balance to be handed her upon her satisfying the ladies that Bill Tomkins would not trouble the town any more, though by this time his name had been changed to Angelus. Kate waited till Mr. Tomkins had gone off on an expedition for the purpose of plunder, when she disappeared. Nothing was heard of her for two weeks, when she returned to Angelus, and with her, looking like a lamb led to the slaughter, was Bill Tomkins. Immediately on her return she asked for an interview with the ladies of Angelus, and on their coming together this addressed them.

"Ladies, there's no need for me to tell you how I managed this case, for you've doubtless all practiced what I've done on your husbands. I played soft on Bill Tomkins, tellin' him he was the apple of my eye, givin' him his way about everything till he was ready to marry me. A jessie of the peace done the business, and as soon as I'd got Bill where the law give me all the privileges and him none of 'em I jist came down on him with both feet. He took it hard at first, then tried fight. I met his fight with age, and it didn't take no time to bring him under. But I'm bound to confess that I was obliged on various occasions to use sarcasm. One I lifted one of his eyes from its socket with my thumb, and I bit a piece off his nose, and once I made him sick with diluted ratbane. But I wishes to say to those of you who's lookin' for methods to manage husbands that I found stiddy talkin' the most wearin' on him. I jist talked and talked and talked. The finality of it was he said, 'Oh, gimme a rest and I'll come down.'"

"And now I wants to tell you ladies that I really believes there's the mak-in' of a man in Bill Tomkins. I done with him what we have to do with the braches. I got him under, then he was easy to the bit. I'll pledge my word that he won't trouble Devil's—I mean Angelus—any more, but will live here as a respectable citizen. I'm willin' to leave the balance of the reward in your hands till you're satisfied that what I'm tellin' you is true. If at any time there's reason for complaint agin my husband jist mention the fact to me. You needn't take no action yourselves. You've got all you can do managin' your own husbands, but gimme a tip and I'll show you that we women don't need no help in doin' men. We got it all our own way if we know how the trick is done."

So perfect an illustration was Bill Tomkins of the value of Redhead Kate's taming methods that the very next day the balance of the reward was paid her, and now Deacon Tomkins is one of the most respected citizens of Angelus. His wife meanwhile has been advanced to the circle of the ladies.

WISCONSIN BOYS RETURN CONTROLLED BY PERSHING
Gov. Philipp has written the war department asking that the Thirty-second division, composed of the Wisconsin and Michigan national guards, be returned to Wisconsin from France as soon as possible. The war department has written him saying that releasing of troops was entirely in the hands of Gen. Pershing.

The governor's letter was sent to the secretary of war. The reply is made by Henry Jerry, major general, assistant chief of staff, director of operations. "The order in which the troops shall return from France," Major Jerry wrote, "has been left entirely to the decision of Gen. Pershing, although terms of peace have not yet been agreed to and it is not beyond the troops may be called upon to engage in further activities. "The duties of the army of occupation are of a very important and delicate nature. It is therefore necessary that Gen. Pershing have at his disposal tried, trained, and dependable troops, rather than new troops of unknown quality."

MAY DROP IN ON OLD GRAND RAPIDS FRIENDS

In the following interesting letter from Theron Lyon, this former Grand Rapids man indicates that he has not forgotten his old friends here and it may not be a great while before he is around again to see them. The letter follows:

St. Maries, Feb. 15 1919
Messrs: Drumh & Sutor
Grand Rapids, Wis.
Gentlemen:
I am enclosing check for two dollars ($2.00) to cover subscription for the year 1919. Expected as usual to get back to old Grand Rapids and visit old friends for a month or so but failed to come as the Mill Company I am with rather insisted on my staying and helping them out on their repair work which is always needed once a year in lumber mills and that generally is in the winter months. But as our winter is a rule quit business about the first of February we are now running the mill and don't know when I will see my old friends back there. But from the fact that I am getting a little homesick and some lonesome I may drop in on them most any old time without notice.

We have had a very mild winter here with the exception of about twenty days the last of December and first few days of January when it made me think of old Wisconsin. It froze about 12 inches of the ice in the river and put the steam boat line out of commission for a time but was a rich harvest for the ice men as it was the best ice they have had here for years, but a three days "chink" wind cleaned it out completely. I don't know whether I ever wrote you a description of this part of the country as I see it or not, but it might interest you to hear how acceptable but just now our boys from across the waters are sending letters which your readers would probably rather read than anything that I might write.

I take great interest in reading them as most of the boys I know and am proud of them too as they not only opened the English and French eyes with what they could do but the "lums" soon learned to their sorrow—if they ever had any.

Regards to all.
Yours truly,
Theron Lyon.

CLARK COUNTY FARMERS SWINDLED BY AGENTS

Another scheme, which is apparently a new graft to relieve the wealthy farmers of their excess coin, has come to light over at Neillsville. The story the Neillsville paper tells of it follows:

Fred Trepion is in jail awaiting a hearing on the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. He was given a preliminary hearing on Monday before Judge Schoengarth and the hearing was postponed until next week.

It seems that Trepion and two or three other solicitors had been working in this end of the county for a couple of days, having completed their operations around Thron and Stanley some months ago. Their plan is to sell memberships in the Consumers Service and Supply Co., membership to cost $30 and payable in most anything of value. One man traded a young bull for a membership. The solicitors maintain that members in the service and supply company will be enabled to buy most anything they want at even lower prices than from mail order houses. They ask their members to make their selections of purchases from Sears, Roebuck, Montgomery Ward or any other large mail order catalogue and send the order to them. They agree to supply the purchase at less than the catalogue prices, but the experience of those bitten in the north end of the county is that a commission was charged them and which brought the purchase price even higher than that which would have been secured of the home merchant.

Fred Trepion hooked quite a number in this vicinity in the two days they were at work, men who should know better, too. But the solicitors have smooth tongues and plausible stories coupled with a bewildering array of contracts, receipts and notes (heavy on the notes) and they were enabled to put across their plan in a number of instances. The Consumers Service and Supply Co. may be a reliable institution but Judge Schoengarth is going to find out before lets Trepion go.

ORDER YOUR AUTO LICENSE NOW AND AVOID RUSH

If you own an automobile or motorcycle, and you intend to use it this summer, you will need a license plate. The time to order these plates is now, before the rush season begins. The office of the secretary of the state is now issuing license plates at the rate of 1,000 a day. As there are 200,000 motor vehicles in the state, which number will be augmented by more than 10,000 new cars before the automobile season begins, there is bound to be a jam in the number of applications between April 1st and June 2nd. Those sending in their application during this period are often obliged to wait from ten days to three weeks for their plates, which will cause no little inconvenience if traveling into the larger cities where the traffic cops are sure to "hawl" one out for not having their license plates upon their car. Applications for the registration of automobiles must be made to the secretary of state at Madison. The fees this year are: Passenger cars $10, trucks used entirely within the city limits of incorporated cities, or villages $10, trucks to be used outside of limits, carrying a capacity less than 5,000 pounds, $20; 5,000 pounds or more, $25; dealers, $25; motorcycles $4.

HAVE FARM ACCOUNT BOOKS

The Tribune has a good supply of Farm Account Books on hand now and farmers who want to keep track of where their money is going the coming year can come in and get one of these books for 50c.

—City News Depot has now on hand each week Blindr Twine that could be made very useful on the farm. Any interested farmer may call at the City News Depot, 2nd St. and get it free of charge. The Country Gentleman, the oldest and most reliable agricultural publication in the United States is always on sale at the City News Depot. 41

PAY AND FILE INCOME TAX BEFORE MAR. 15

U. S. Internal Revenue Bureau Gives Warning That Severe Penalties Will Be Enforced.

WOMEN WITHIN LAW'S SCOPE; HOW THEY REPORT INCOME

The Income Tax drive comes to a close on Saturday night, March 15.

The payments and returns due on that date under the provisions of the new Revenue Law must be in the hands of local Internal Revenue Collectors before their offices close that night.

The Income Tax is being collected to meet the war expenses. Every person who should and noted his home on Armistice Day is now called upon to contribute his share of the cost of winning the war.

The taxpayers and the dodgers will face severe fines and jail sentences. The Internal Revenue Bureau announces that its officers will check us all up to see that every person who comes within the scope of the Income Tax law did his share.

Where to Pay and File.

Residents of Wisconsin are required to make their returns and pay their taxes to Paul A. Hemmy, Milwaukee, or to Bart Williams, Madison, Collectors of Internal Revenue, or to any of the deputy collectors who are doing advisory work on Income Tax.

Payments sent by mail should be attached to the returns and should be in the form of check, money order or draft. Cash payments by mail are sent at the taxpayer's risk of loss.

If you are unable to make your return personally because of illness, absence or incapacity an agent or legal representative may make your return. If there are any doubtful points as to your items of income or allowable deductions you should get in touch at once with a Revenue officer or a banker for advice.

Women Pay Tax.

Women are subject to all the requirements of the Income Tax. Whether single or married, a woman's income from all sources must be considered. If unmarried or if living apart from her husband she must make her return for 1918 if her net income was $1,000 or over.

If married and living with her husband her income must be considered with the husband's in determining the liability for a return. Their joint income, less the credits allowed by law, is subject to normal tax. The wife's net income is considered separately in computing any surtax that may be due. Husband and wife file jointly, as a rule. If the husband does not include his wife's income in his return the wife must file a separate return.

Severe Penalties.

The new Revenue Law places severe penalties on a person who fails to make return on time, refuses to make return or renders a fraudulent return. For failure to make return and pay tax on time a fine of not more than $1,000 is imposed and 25 per cent of the tax due is assessed. For refusing willfully to make return or for making a false or fraudulent return there is a fine of not exceeding $10,000 and imprisonment of not exceeding one year, or both.

Farmers' Income Taxable.

Every farmer and ranchman who had a fair or a good year in 1918 must heed the Income Tax this year. He must consider all his income as taxable. He is entitled to deduct from his gross income all amounts expended in carrying on his farm. The cost of farm machinery, farm buildings and improvements cannot be deducted. The cost of live stock, either for resale or for breeding purposes, is also regarded as investment.

Overtime and Bonuses Taxed.

Salary and wage earners must consider as taxable every item received from employers and from other sources. Bonuses and overtime pay are to be reported as well as the regular payments.

Allowances for Losses.

Losses sustained in 1918 and not covered by insurance are deductible losses if incurred in the taxpayer's business or trade, in any transaction undertaken for profit or arising from fire, storm, shipwreck or other casualty or from theft.

SQUARE DEAL FOR EVERY INCOME TAX PAYER.

Washington, D. C. — "The rights of all persons now filing Income Tax returns are amply protected by provisions for abatements, refunds and appeals," says Commissioner Daniel C. Roper.

"Every person can be sure of a square deal. No person is expected to pay more than his share of tax. His share is determined solely by the amount and nature of his net income for 1918, as defined in the law.

"Abatement petitions are dealt with upon unadvisedly. Refunds will be made in every case where too much tax is erroneously collected.

"The Income Tax is 'on the level' all the way through."

MANY HABITS MAKE UP A LIFE

If you pluck a dandelion you think you have a single flower. But, in reality, you have from 150 to 200 flowers, because each golden ray in the rosette is a blossom in itself.

A weed? Why, maybe it is according to the farmer or the suburbanite. But imagine how empty and dull the roadside would be without it.

Sometimes we put our finger on one trait or characteristic of a successful person and say, "That is why he has accomplished so much." But it isn't any more true than that one of the golden rays makes a dandelion.

It takes a great many different habits to make up our life and upon the co-ordination of those habits will depend in great part of our success or failure. But, first of all in the study of habits, sort out the good from the bad. Then eliminate as rapidly as possible those that are harmful, remembering that the older a habit the harder it is to uproot.—Ex.

THE FEDERAL AGRICULTURAL SCHOOL IN PITTSVILLE MONDAY MORNING HAS AROUSED CONSIDERABLE ENTHUSIASM AMONG THE BOYS OF THE DISTRICT FOR WHOM IT WAS INTENDED.

The federal agricultural school under the direct supervision of the Wood County Agricultural school, which convened in Pittsville Monday morning, has aroused considerable enthusiasm among the boys of the district for whom it was intended. The school commenced Monday morning with eleven scholars and by Tuesday night this number had swollen to fourteen. With that number it is the second largest school that has been held in the county so far this season. The teachers are well pleased with the interest the lads are taking in the work and predict an ever growing interest and attendance.

In the absence of J. B. Taylor, who is sick with the influenza, A. N. Johnson has charge of the school. Mr. Johnson is what can be called a young man, although the school is visited on certain days by experts and specialists. Monday, the first day of the school, S. G. Corroy, of the Wood County school, a poultry specialist, took charge of the school. Later on it is expected to get P. L. Musback, of the Marshfield station, a soil expert, to give a day. Mr. Delwiche, on stock, will offer his services, and others, expert and general purpose men, are expected here for a day or more at a time. Mr. Clark, of the Wood County school, is here nearly every day.

Following is a list of names of the boys who have joined the school up to and including last evening: Herbert Klotz, Klotz, Austin Brooks, Earl Robinson, Alfred Klotz, Theodore Gardner, Arnold Uhlmann, Wesley Erickson, Leo Krause, Alfred Schiller, Arnold Weigandt, David Clements Clyde Neuberg, Alynus Merte, Otto Lust.—Pittsville Record.

BRAVERY ON BATTLE FRONT BRINGS D. S. M. REWARD

Justice of the Peace, W. H. Getts, has received word from Oregon, Wis. that his nephew, Pvt. Pinley Getts, has been awarded the Distinguished Service Medal for extraordinary heroism and exceptional devotion to duty during the days of Nov. 3, 4, 5. During this time Private Pinley Getts was continuously on the alert and was sent out on a mission, altho he was compelled to go thru machine gun and artillery barrage, until he had fully gained information wanted by his battalion commander. Conspicuous courage and devotion to duty was shown by Private Pinley Getts when on the afternoon of Nov. 4, it was necessary to know exact location of G and I companies between the river Rhine and east canal. Altho three runners had been wounded in the effort to get this information, Private Pinley Getts volunteered to go same. In securing this information and taking very important messages to the company commanders of E and G companies, Private Getts was compelled to swim the river Rhine and crawl on his stomach across the bars under continuous machine gun and artillery fire, remaining in camp for more than one hour. Private Getts not only secured exact information desired, but also returned immediately and delivered same to his battalion commander.

NEARLY LOST HIS FOOT

Bert Wilson of Plainfield, came near losing his foot in an accident that occurred there last week, and is now in the hospital in Milwaukee where he is receiving medical attention. Wilson was working with a gang cutting ice on the lake there. An attempt was being made to move the ice cutting machine and Wilson slipped, his foot coming into contact with the saw. The foot was nearly severed but the flesh held the limb together and a doctor was summoned. An attempt is being made to save the foot and it is now hoped the man will not suffer any further loss than the amputation of four toes.

BISHOP WELLER, OF THE EPISCOPAL CHURCH AT POND DU LAC, WHO IS WELL KNOWN IN THIS CITY, HAS BEEN APPOINTED AS THE OFFICIAL AMBASSADOR OF CHURCH, EPISCOPAL, TO VISIT THE HEADS OF VARIOUS HISTORIC CHURCHES IN EUROPE, ASIA, AND AFRICA.

His mission is to invite them to send deputations to the world conference on faith and order. At this conference it is hoped every Christian body will have representatives. Differences in faith, worship, discipline and policy are to be discussed with a view to ascertain if any steps toward church unity for all Christians are possible.

He will go in person to the heads of Scandinavian churches, and to extend to them an invitation to send delegations to this war council. Other great ecclesiastical bodies have been appointed to secure the interests of the other Christian bodies throughout the world. Bishop Weller's journey will take him to Rome, Alexandria, Antioch, Constantinople, Jerusalem, Moscow, Christania, Copenhagen and Stockholm in order to extend the invitation to the pope of Rome, the patriarchs of the Greek, Russian and other oriental Catholic churches and the heads of the Swedish, Norwegian and Danish Lutheran churches. He will probably sail March 3 from New York and will be gone two or three months.

TAKE PHOTOS OF GRAVES

The American Red Cross have announced that they will take a photograph of every identified grave in Europe and the photo will be sent to the next of kin of the deceased person. Several photos have already been taken and sent to the relatives and are reported to be all that could be expected of them.

Empire Mechanical Milker

Most dairymen think that the principal merit of a milking machine lies in the fact that it is a labor saving appliance and nothing more. This is all wrong. Besides being a great labor saver, its principal merit lies in the fact that a greater flow of milk follows its use, the milking period is very materially prolonged and a cleaner milk is assured.

The installation of a milking machine places a stamp of progress on your farm, your boys will be more interested in the dairy because, it does away with the work that all boys regard as drudgery and which causes them to leave the farm.

PITTSVILLE FARMERS FORM FARM LOAN ASSOCIATION

A farm land loan association to be known as the Pittsville Farm Land Loan Association has been formed according to federal laws enacted in 1917, an act of Congress, for a cheap rate of interest on farm land loans. Little was thought of the act until it was passed in late 1917, but the action of the farmers of the Pittsville district again brings it into prominence.

The object of the association is, as expressed, to get together under the federal law for the purpose of gaining admission to a lower rate of interest. The provisions of the farm loan act make it possible to borrow money on secured property at a rate of 5 1/2 per cent interest, the interest and principal to mature in 34 1/2 years, under a plan whereby part of the principal and interest is paid off yearly.

The territory in what is known as the Pittsville Federal Farm Land Loan Association will include the Towns of Wood, Rock, Cary, Richfield, Hites, Dexter and Hansen with a good membership to start out with. The directors chosen at the first meeting of the members are as follows: Harry Turner, J. H. Snider, D. J. Kilday, E. S. Kriebel and W. B. Clements, president and J. H. Snider, secretary. Headquarters for the association will be at Pittsville.—Pittsville Record.

WOULD BAN PARIS GREEN

Druggists and merchants handling spraying materials are being urged by the economic entomology department of the Wisconsin College of Agriculture to purchase arsenate of zinc or arsenate of lead instead of Paris green this year. Insecticides should be ordered by the growers in February or March, says L. F. Genthner, one of the entomologists, and the decision to use some other spray than Paris green should be made now.

Experiments conducted in the field show that Paris green is not an economical spray material, as it causes severe foliage injury. On potatoes 2 1/2 pounds of arsenate of lead or 2 pounds of arsenate of zinc to 50 gallons of water may be safely used. The spray must be applied evenly and must be put on when the young bugs are beginning to hatch.

Although the arsenate of zinc should not be used on any other plants than potatoes, arsenate of lead may be used on all kinds of crops. One pound of it is not so deadly in effect as a pound of Paris green, but it will not burn. It spreads and sticks much better, and it is easier to handle in the spray.

Calcium arsenate has a still lower killing power and a slight tendency to burn, so it is not recommended where the other sprays are obtainable. The burning can be prevented by adding equal amounts of good air-slacked lime. It is so inexpensive that it may well be used in the garden.

NECEDAH NOT WORRYING

While many of the ice dealers around the state have been a little bit worried about the ice crop this year, down at Necedah they have plenty of ice and are not worrying. According to the reports from there the two ice houses have been filled and the railroad ice houses are packed to the roofs. In addition to this many cars of ice have been shipped to Adams to fill the railroad ice house there. Whether it's due to the fact that Necedah is a rather chilly town or not is not known but they've got the goods alright and are now waiting for summer to arrive.

INTERESTING NEWS FROM SOLDIER BOYS

FROM LESTER R. RAYOME

Luntange, Luxembourg
January 12, 1919

Dear Friend Fred:—
Your kind and welcome letter was received a week ago with the consolation of news, thanking you very much for it. Certainly was glad to receive it for it brought back memories of the old friend back home. You know it does not feel good to know that he has not been forgotten by those whom he cannot forget. I guess you are beginning to think I have forgotten all about my friends at the office. I have not very much time to spend in writing but I have often thought of the bunch at the office. I have written a few lines since I left the good old U. S. A. and expect to be back the first of spring or sooner.

I left the states May 25th last year and certainly had some trip. We were on the water 17 days. I was lucky as I only had a small dose of sea sickness which only lasted one day and I sure enjoyed the trip. We traveled 31 days before we reached our destination over on this side of the pond. We did not ride in pullmans. We rode in box cars on this side. On the side of the pond they painted rooms for eight horses or forty men and it is comfortable riding (mt.).

We did most of our moving at night when at the front. Our German friend could not fly over us with his planes and give us a shower of machine gun bullets or bombs.

I have got so that I can sleep anywhere, any place and any time and where under a tree in a ditch or a shell hole. In fact any place. I have been on three big drives, the St. Meibel, the Argonne and the Argonne-Meuse. The things I have seen I never will forget. In fact some of them are too terrible to mention.

We chased Jerry as far as the Meuse river when we got news of the armistice. When we got the order to stop firing. We stopped firing on the 11th month, 11th day, 11th hour and the 11th field artillery were with us when we fired over us with the last shots. On that hour it seemed like coming from a hazy dream, not true or to be realized. Men grinned, looked at one another and said, "You think it's true?"

When the officers order was read off by a man by officer from an infantry outfit. Hell broke loose, men cried, others cheered, officers shouted with privates and every gunner sent a final shot to Germany.

Hours after the quite seemed to pull no white bangs, or G. I. simply writing this letter to you in the columns of troops marching in day light and at ease which to us who had crawled for months in darkness seemed an unusual sight.

As we rode over the land we began to see the beauty of France by day light on our march to the last position which was an old castle. I had the pleasure of crossing the river on a German pontoon bridge which was built by them and captured by the American under the most hellish fire that man ever made.

We camped upon a hill near the mill which the wind swept bleak and cold and we arose many mornings with Jack Frost staring at us outside of our pup tents with his frost coat on. We moved out of the hill and set up our tents and kept them out of the cold and what room that was left was given to the men and believe me they were 10 long dreary days on that hill. I have written this letter to you in the nursery of an old French Chateau which is everything we have heard about in our travels or in novels or pictures. This room was the quarters of a division paymaster General in the German army but is now the snug and cozy quarters of the non-commissioned officers of the coolie chasing army.

These buildings and grounds are owned by a Frenchman who is a Colonel of the Artillery. He was here today on a furlough to look the place over but soon left a broken down man after he had found it all been occupied by the Germans. All the rooms but one have been made up into bunks, some rooms have as high as 2,224 bunks in them. Three bunks high.

In the rear is a big court yard or as we call it home a barn yard. And in the center is a garden plot in which at one time no doubt many of France's most famous flowers grew. At one end of the garden is the ever present crucifix of France in fact everywhere you go you see one here, which is reverend now I believe by every American soldier who has been at the front because dear friends we have learned to fear our God more now after what we had to go thru.

Near by they are building the railroad and ever distant whistle that we hear makes us stop working and smile for that means they are coming close to us and we are getting home. And the boys hope the work will be completed soon as we sure want to get to home sweet home again.

We left Stenay, France on January 6th and after a two day hike thru Belgium, crossed the border line into Luxembourg. I am now only about 20 miles from the German border. I think our next move will be into Germany. I sure feel closer to Berlin than I ever thought I would be.

I will make one more remark before I close this letter which is starting to become a book case Hurrah for America. So with best regards to you and to all my friends at the mill, I remain,

FROM GEO. J. JOHNSON
Dec. 31, 1918

Dear Father:—
Well I thought that I would drop you a few lines and let you know that I am getting along fine and hoping you are the same. Well I am now in a little town called Isenberg about five miles east of the river Rhine. It lies in a narrow deep valley, through which flows a rapid little stream. High up on the summit of one of the hills stands an ancient castle which belonged to the Prince of Weid, once King of Albania. Its best days date back to 1600. Its walls are crumbled and from some of its stones are built several houses of the town. The house in which I am billeted contains material taken from the ruins. On the side of the same hill stands a church whose melodious bells ring every hour of the day. Near our kitchen is a spring in a cave. The water flows down from the rocks, making a little fall of ten feet into a small creek that runs into the stream below, foaming and roaring falls. One platoon is billeted in a small bungalow on the opposite hill and across the valley from the church directly on the other side of the falls.

The population of the town consists mostly of women and children all of whom seem glad that the war is over and treat us friendly. They all seem poor and must have suffered greatly during the war. It is Sunday and the day is being spent in resting. It has been raining every night so far but is not very cold.

Well I am glad that I never have been sick so far. We have eight men on detached service so I have been on the road most of the time and I like my job good.

Well we had a good time Christmas as the Y. M. C. A. gave us a package of cookies, a bar of chocolate and cigarettes. Well I saw Frank Christenson a month or two ago and he looks the same as ever. Well I must close for this time. I am sending you a card of this town that I am in now.

Your son, George.

DIG OUT THE COMMON BARBERRY NOW

This is the time to locate barberry bushes, dig them out, and thereby protect the wheat crop of the entire neighborhood from black rust. This is the time of year when the United States Department of Agriculture who are directing the campaign to destroy the common barberry. At present about 60 field men are at work in 14 northern and central states locating barberry bushes; but this force will be very materially increased before the height of the open season for barberry digging. When frost begins to come out of the ground. At the present the spores of the black stem rust, in which stage the rust passes the winter, are lying on stubble and grasses waiting for spring to come so they can begin their destructive work. The black spore stage can not spread to grains and grasses, but only to the common barberry, which it ferries by spore or cluster-cup stage. These spores then cause rust on grains and grasses. If there are no common barberry bushes, therefore the rust can not get started in the spring.

PROFIT FROM ONE PIG $587

Ample proof that pig clubs pay is contained in reports being received continually by the United States Department of Agriculture from club leaders. One report recently received tells of the success of a Tennessee who, in May, 1918, invested $50 in a pure-bred gilt, and now figures his profits at $587.35. She farrowed seven pigs, part of which the boy sold for $133. With this money he purchased a boar of excellent breeding, which he exhibited at the East Tennessee Division Fair, winning grand championships of the breed over all exhibitors. He won $87 in prizes, $45 of it in competition with experienced farmers. His animals are now valued at $525. This, with the money from sales and prizes winnings, amounts to $745, from which he deducts $157.65 for feed and care, leaving a profit of $587.35.

EVERYBODY IS NOW FIGURING INCOME TAX

In Order to Be Helpful to Public, Internal Revenue Bureau Has Every Available Officer in Field.

SEVERE PENALTIES IF YOU DELAY BEYOND MARCH 15

With the due date for Income Taxes only a few weeks away, the collection of this far-reaching tax on 1918 incomes has started off with a bang. Everybody is figuring Income tax.

Payments and sworn statements of income must reach Internal Revenue offices on or before March 15, and there are severe penalties for delinquency.

Residents of Wisconsin are required to make their returns and pay their taxes to Paul A. Hemmy, Milwaukee, or to Burt Williams, Madison, Collectors of Internal Revenue, or to any of the deputy collectors who are doing advisory work on Income Tax.

"Pay your Income Tax by March 15," is the slogan of the Internal Revenue Bureau, which has sent every available officer into the field to help the public to understand the requirements and to prepare the returns.

Who Must Make Return.

It is estimated that many thousands of single and married persons in this section of the United States who have never before made annual returns are required to do so this year.

Income tax returns must be made between now and March 15 by persons who come under the following classifications:

Any unmarried person whose 1918 net income was $1,000 or over. Widows and widowers, divorcees and married persons who are living apart from their husbands or wives, are for the purposes of the Income Tax classed as unmarried.

Any married person living with wife or husband whose 1918 net income was $2,000 or over. The income of both husband and wife must be considered, together with the earnings of minor children, if any.

Revenue Bureau Offers Aid.

Each person in the United States who is in either of these classifications must get busy at once if penalties are to be avoided. He should secure a blank Form 1040 for reporting net income up to $5,000, or Form 1040 if his net income exceeded that amount. Forms are being distributed by Collectors and their Deputies, also by banks. By following the instructions on the forms a correct return can be prepared at home. If a person needs advice or aid, the Deputy Collectors in the field will furnish this without charge.

The new Revenue law places the Income Tax duty on citizens and residents. The Internal Revenue bureau is sending its men to get the tax and the returns in. With active co-operation every tax due March 15 will be paid and every return required by law will be in the Revenue offices on time.

Exemptions Allowed.

A single person is allowed a personal exemption of $1,000. If he is supporting in his household relatives who are dependent upon him he may claim the status of the head of a family who has the same exemption as if married.

A married person who lives with wife or husband is allowed a personal exemption of $2,000. The head of a family is entitled to claim a similar personal exemption.

An additional exemption of $200 is allowed for each person under eighteen or incapable of self support who was dependent upon and received his chief support from the taxpayer.

A husband and wife living together are entitled to but one personal exemption of $2,000. If they make separate returns the exemption may be claimed by either or divided.

Accuracy Required.

Absolute accuracy is necessary in making up income figures. Any person who is working for wages should find out exactly how much he received during the whole year 1918. Wages, bank interest, bond interest, dividends, rents received and all other items must be reported correctly. Mere guesses are not accepted, for they are unjust alike to the taxpayer and the Government and defeat the proper administration of the law.

INCOME TAX IS TRULY POPULAR.

"The payment of Income taxes" * * * takes on a new significance * * * which should be understood by * * * every citizen. The taxation system of this country is truly popular, * * * clear of the people, by the people * * * and for the people. Every * * * citizen is liable to tax, and the * * * amount of the tax is graduated * * * according to the success and * * * true attainment by each individual * * * in availing himself of the opportunities created and preserved * * * by our free institutions. The * * * method and degree of the tax is * * * determined by no favored class * * * but by the representatives of the * * * people. The proceeds of the tax * * * should be regarded as a national * * * investment.—Daniel C. Roper, * * * Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

ATTENTION FORD OWNERS

The Huntington Garage has installed a re-boring machine for the re-boring of cylinders of Ford machines and are ready to take in Fords which are running badly due to worn cylinders. Before them, replace the pistons with over sized pistons, fitting the cylinder, and in fact make a practically new engine of one pretty nearly worn out. The entire job can be done cheaply compared with trying to replace the cylinder block. The Huntington Garage is the oldest in the city and are Ford specialists, having mechanics that are as good as the best and who are thoroughly familiar with all types of machines.

Empire Mechanical Milker

Most dairymen think that the principal merit of a milking machine lies in the fact that it is a labor saving appliance and nothing more. This is all wrong. Besides being a great labor saver, its principal merit lies in the fact that a greater flow of milk follows its use, the milking period is very materially prolonged and a cleaner milk is assured.

The installation of a milking machine places a stamp of progress on your farm, your boys will be more interested in the dairy because, it does away with the work that all boys regard as drudgery and which causes them to leave the farm.

PITTSVILLE FARMERS FORM FARM LOAN ASSOCIATION

A farm land loan association to be known as the Pittsville Farm Land Loan Association has been formed according to federal laws enacted in 1917, an act of Congress, for a cheap rate of interest on farm land loans. Little was thought of the act when it was passed in late 1917, but the action of the farmers of the Pittsville district again brings it into prominence.

The object of the association is, as expressed, to get together under the federal law for the purpose of gaining admission to a lower rate of interest. The provisions of the farm loan act make it possible to borrow money on secured property at a rate of 5 1/2 per cent interest, the interest and principal to mature in 34 1/2 years, under a plan whereby part of the principal and interest is paid off yearly.

This territory in what is known as the Pittsville Federal Farm Land Loan Association will include the Towns of Wood, Rock, Cary, Richfield, Hites, Dexter and Hanson, with a good membership to start out with. The directors chosen at the first meeting of the members are as follows: Harry Turner, J. H. Snider, J. K. Kilday, E. S. Kriebel and W. B. Clements, president and J. H. Snider, secretary. Headquarters for the association will be at Pittsville.—Pittsville Record.

WOULD BAN PARIS GREEN

Druggists and merchants handling spraying materials are being urged by the economic entomology department of the Wisconsin College of Agriculture to put these arsenates of lead or arsenate of lead instead of Paris green this year. Insecticides should be ordered by the growers in February or March, says L. F. Gentner, one of the entomologists, and the decision to use some other spray than Paris green should be made now.

Experiments conducted in the field show that Paris green is not an economical spray material, as it causes severe foliage injury. On potatoes 2 1/2 pounds of arsenate of lead or 2 pounds of arsenate of zinc to 50 gallons of water may be safely used. The spray must be applied evenly and must be put on when the young bugs are beginning to hatch.

Although the arsenate of lead should not be used on any other plants than potatoes, arsenate of lead may be used on all kinds of crops. One pound of it is not so deadly in effect as a pound of Paris green, but it will not burn, it spreads and sticks much better, and it is easier to handle in the spray.

Calcium arsenate has a still lower killing power and a slight tendency to burn, so it is not recommended where the other sprays are obtainable. The burning can be prevented by adding equal amounts of good air-dried lime. It is so inexpensive that it may well be used in the garden.

NEEDDAH NOT WORRYING

While many of the ice dealers around the state have been a little bit worried about the ice crop this year, down at Needdah they have plenty of ice and are not worrying. According to the reports from there the two ice houses have been filled and the railroad ice houses are packed to the roofs. In addition to this many cars of ice have been shipped to Adams to fill the railroad ice house there. Whether it's due to the fact that Needdah is a rather chilly town or not is not known but they've got the goods alright and are now waiting for summer to arrive.

INTERESTING NEWS FROM SOLDIER BOYS

FROM LESTER E. RAYOME

Lantange, Luxembourg
January 12, 1919

Dear Friend Fred:—Your kind and welcome letter was received a week ago with the Consolidated News, thanking you very much for it. Certainly was glad to receive it for it brought back memories of the old friends back home. You know it does a fellow good to know that he has not been forgotten by those whom he cannot forget. I guess you are beginning to think I have forgotten all about my friends at the office. I have not very much time to spend in writing but I have often thought of the bunch at the office. I have certainly had some experiences since I left the good old U. S. A. and expect to be back the first of spring or sooner.

I left the states May 25th last year and certainly had some trip. We were on the water 17 days, some of the boys got real sick but I was lucky as I only had a small dose of sea sickness which only lasted one day and I sure enjoyed the trip. We traveled 31 days before we reached our destination over on this side of the pond. We did not ride in Pullmans. We rode in box cars on this side. On the side of each car they painted room for eight horses or forty men and it is comfortable riding (n't).

We did most of our moving at night when at the front. So our German friend could not see us with his planes and give us a shower of machine gun bullets or bombs. I have got so that I can sleep anywhere, any place and any time and where under a wagon in a dug out or a shell hole, in fact any place. I have been on three big devices, the Argonne, the Argonne and the Argonne-Meuse. The things I have seen I never will forget in fact some of them are too terrible to mention. We chased Jerry as far as the Meuse river when we got news of the armistice. We could hardly believe it when we got the order to stop firing. We stopped firing on the 11th month, 11th day, 11th hour and the 11th field artillery were with us when we fired some of the last shots. On that hour it seemed like coming from a busy dream, not true or to be realized, men grinned, looked at one another and asked "do you think its true?"

When the officers order was read off by a near by officer from in regular order, they broke loose, men cried, others cheered, officers shook hands with privates and every gunner sent a final shot to Germany. Hours after the quiet seemed to pull no whiz bangs or G. I. cans whining through the air, but columns of troops marching in day light and at once which to us who had crawled for months in darkness seemed an unusual sight.

Then as we rode over the land we began to see the beauty of France by day light on the 1st of March to the last position which was an old saw mill within view of the river Meuse. I have had the pleasure of crossing the river on a German pontoon bridge which was built by them and captured by the Americans under the most hollish fire that man ever made.

We camped upon a hill near the mill which the wind swept bleak and cold and we arose many mornings with Jack Frost staring at our side of our camp with his frost coat on. We moved our horses off of the hill into the mill to keep them out of the cold and what room that was left was given to the men and believe me they were 10 long dreary days on that hill.

Writing this letter to you in the nursery of an old French Chateau which is everything we have heard about in our travels or in novels or pictures. This room was the quarters of a division commander General in the German army but is now the snug and cozy quarters of three non-commissioned officers of the cooie chasing army.

These buildings and grounds are owned by a Frenchman who is a Colonel of the Artillery. He was here today on a furlough to look the place over but soon left a broken down man after he had found it had been occupied by the Germans. All the rooms but this one have been made up into bunk rooms. Some rooms have as high as 2,224 bunks in them, three bunks high.

In the rear is a big court yard or as we call it at home a barn yard. And in the center is a garden plot in which at one time no doubt many of France's most famous flowers grew. At one end of the garden is the ever present crucifix of France in fact everywhere you go you see one over here, which is revered now I believe by every French soldier who has been to the front, because dear friends we have learned to fear our God more now after what we had to go thru.

Near by they are building the railroad and ever distant while that we hear the sound of working and saws for that means they are coming close to us and we will be getting near home, and the boys hope the work will be completed soon as we sure want to get to home sweet home again.

Has Every Available
Officer in Field.

SEVERE PENALTIES IF YOU
DELAY BEYOND MARCH 15

With the due date for Income Taxes only a few weeks away, the collection of this far-reaching tax on 1918 incomes has started off with a bang. Everybody is figuring income tax.

Payments and sworn statements of income must reach Internal Revenue offices on or before March 15, and there are severe penalties for delinquency.

Residents of Wisconsin are required to make their returns and pay their taxes to Paul A. Henney, Milwaukee, or to H. H. Williams, Madison, Collectors of Internal Revenue, or to any of the deputy collectors who are doing advisory work on income tax.

"Pay your Income Tax by March 15" is the slogan of the Internal Revenue Bureau, which has sent every available officer into the field to help the public to understand the requirements and to prepare the returns.

Who Must Make Return. It is estimated that many thousands of single and married persons in this section of the United States who have never before made annual returns are required to do so this year.

Income tax returns must be made between now and March 15 by persons who come under the following classifications:

Any unmarried person whose 1918 net income was $1,000 or over. Widows and widowers, divorcees and married persons who are living apart from their husbands or wives, are for the purposes of the income tax classed as unmarried.

Any married person living with wife or husband whose 1918 net income was $2,000 or over. The income of both husband and wife must be considered, together with the earnings of minor children, if any.

Revenue Bureau Offers Aid.

Each person in the United States who is in either of these classifications must get busy at once if penalties are to be avoided. He should secure a blank Form 1010 A for reporting net income up to $5,000, or Form 1040 if his net income exceeded that amount. Forms are being distributed by Collectors and their Deputies, also by banks. By following the instructions on the forms a correct return can be prepared at home. If a person needs advice or aid, the Deputy Collectors in the field will furnish this without charge.

The new Revenue law places the income tax duty on citizens and residents. The Internal Revenue Bureau is sending its men to work right with the public to get the tax and the returns in. With active cooperation every tax due March 15 will be paid and every return required by law will be in the Revenue office on time.

Exemptions Allowed.

A single person is allowed a personal exemption of $1,000. If he is supporting in his household relatives who are dependent upon him he may claim the status of the head of a family who has the same exemption as if married. A married person who lives with wife or husband is allowed a personal exemption of $2,000. The head of a family is entitled to claim a similar personal exemption.

An additional exemption of $200 is allowed for each person under eighteen or incapable of self support who was dependent upon and received his chief support from the taxpayer.

A husband and wife living together are entitled to but one personal exemption of $2,000. If they make separate returns the exemption may be claimed by either or divided.

Accuracy Required.

Absolute accuracy is necessary in making up income figures. Any person who is working for wages should find out exactly how much he received during the whole year 1918. Fees, bank interest, bond interest, dividends, rents received and all other items must be reported correctly. More guesses are not accepted, for they are unjust alike to the taxpayer and the Government and defeat the proper administration of the law.

INCOME TAX IS TRULY POPULAR.

"The payment of Income taxes takes on a new significance which should be understood by every citizen. The taxation system of this country is truly popular, of the people, by the people, and for the people. Every citizen is liable to tax, and the amount of the tax is graduated according to the success and fortune attained by each individual. In availing himself of the opportunities created and preserved by our free institutions, the method and degree of the tax is determined by no favored class, but by the representatives of the people. The proceeds of the tax should be regarded as a national investment."—Daniel C. Roper, Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

ATTENTION FORD OWNERS

The Huntington Garage has installed a re-boring machine for the re-boring of cylinders of Ford machines, and are ready to take in Fords which are running badly due to worn cylinders, rebore them, replace the pistons with over sized pistons, fitting the cylinder exactly, and in fact make a practically new engine of one pretty nearly worn out. The entire job can be done cheaply compared with trying to replace the cylinder block. The Huntington Garage is the oldest in the city and are Ford specialists, having mechanics that are as good as the best and who are thoroughly familiar with all types of machines.

UNDER STATE SUPERVISION

CARRY ON!

Ten years from now your station in life will be pretty well determined by what you earned, saved and banked last year, this year and next year.

Many people do not believe this. Instead of building for the future they count on it trusting to luck or inheritance to make their old age secure against want—and eighty-two out of every hundred die and leave nothing.

Carry on—with your bank account.

WAUSAU'S BLOCK PAVEMENT NOT GIVING GOOD SERVICE

In view of the fact that the city and county are planning on an extensive paving program for the coming year and that from time to time creosote blocks have been considered favorably for use in this city, it may be especially well to call to the public's attention the experience Wausau has had with the block pavement. A Wausau paper describes the pavement as follows:

The creosote block pavement in Wausau seems to have been anything but a success. It does not stand up in this climate; or lay down would be a better term to use. It simply raises up in great big blisters and looks ugly and unsightly. Crows of course have been put on Third street to reduce these blisters, but as soon as one is reduced another raises and today a person trying to walk on our creosote block paved streets is so uneasy that one cannot tell whether he is tied up on whiskey or trying to dance. An automobile moving over these bumps gives its occupants a sensation similar to that when riding in a boat on a rough sea. The bridge across the Wisconsin river is paved with these blocks and they have bumped up so that it is dangerous for one to ride over it in the night time. Scott street north of the county square, has been pointed out as the finest piece of block paving in the city. Today it is humped up in waves to the extent that it makes one positively dizzy to look at it. Unless some way can be devised in Wausau will soon become a nuisance.

SARATOGA COUPLE MARRIED

Last Thursday morning at 10:30 the wedding ceremony of Miss Pauline Namesnick and Mr. Glenn Wolcott was performed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Namesnick, in the town of Saratoga. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Theo. Reinke of the Scandinavian-Moravian church of this city.

The bride and groom were attended by Miss Rose Fisher, as bridesmaid, and Max Mitchell as groomsmen. The home had been prettily decorated for the occasion and the event was a most pleasing affair.

Both of the young people are very well and favorably known. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Namesnick of Saratoga and is one of the popular young ladies of her community. The groom is a New Rome man who has established a reputation of honesty and industry in his community which is second to none. For the present the home with the bride's parents but in the spring will build a new home of their own on a place on the Ten Mile Creek which is owned by the groom. The Tribune unites with their many friends in wishing them a long married life with every happiness.

Mrs. August Gutschalk is in Minneapolis this week as a delegate to the Lady Macabees Convention.

Mrs. A. C. Miller is in Rochester, Minn., where she went to consult with the Mayo Bros. at their hospital.

George Snyder, who lives out in the town of Grand Rapids, was a business caller at Tribune Wednesday.

Otto and Fred Roenius attended the initiation of a big class into the Elks at Wausau one night the first of the week.

Mrs. James Glennon and baby returned the latter part of last week from Green Bay where Mrs. Glennon had been to see her father. They expect Mr. Slattery will be able to leave the hospital with in the next week.

month with Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Rowley. Mrs. Daly states that there are two or three transports arriving at Newport News weekly now and the result is that the doctor, who is an officer in the Army Medical Corps, is kept pretty busy.

Frank Rausch, treasurer of the town of Grant, was a business visitor in the city on Saturday, being engaged in collecting taxes for his town, which he states are coming in in pretty good shape in spite of the fact that they are pretty high on some of the drained land out there.
While here he favored this office with a pleasant call.

Frank Gili, who has been in the Merchant Marines for the past year and a half, returned home last week, honorably discharged. Frank had a variety of experiences, crossed the ocean to France once and made several trips from New York to Galveston. While in the service he visited most of the Atlantic seaports and rated water-tender at the time of his discharge.

H. Laging of the town of Grant city on Wednesday and while here he favored the Tribune office with a pleasant call.

Aug. Stake, one of the prosperous farmers out Vesper way called at this office on Friday to have his subscription advanced for another year.
Mr. Stake reports considerable sickness out his way.

Misses Esther and Bernice Gill, who hold positions in the office of the Soo Line in Milwaukee, came up Friday night and spent the week end with their father. They returned Sunday night.

Walter Troutel, who carries mail on the rural route out of Vesper, was a caller at the Tribune Saturday, having dropped in to transact some business. Mr. Troutel reports lots of influenza out his way, stating that it is the worst it has been all winter.

Tribune office on Saturday, having been in the city on business. Mr.
Goldberg was accompanied by his father, who is in spite of the fact that he has reached his 70th year is enjoying fine health and apparently will give the century mark a close rub.

Joseph Ebacher of the town of Rudolph was among the business callers at this office on Friday. Mr.
Ebacher has been a resident of this part of the country during the past thirty years and states that he cannot remember a winter in all that time when the weather was so mild as it has been during the past past winter.

George Kauloson of the town of Saratoga was a pleasant caller at the Tribune Monday, having come in to advance his subscription to the paper for another year. Mr. Knutson says that the boys are getting from the service.

WAUSAU'S BLOCK PAVEMENT NOT GIVING GOOD SERVICE

In view of the fact that the city and county are planning on an extensive paving program for the coming year and that from time to time crossed blocks have been considered favorably for use in this city, it may be especially well to call to the public's attention the experience Wausau has had with the block pavement.
A Wausau paper describes the pavement as follows:

The cross-block pavement in Wausau seems to have been anything but a success. It does not stand up in this climate; or lay down would be a better term to use. It simply raises up in great big blisters and looks ugly and unsightly. Crows of men have been put on Third street to reduce these blisters but as soon as one is reduced another raises and today a person trying to walk on our crossblock paved streets is so unsteady that one cannot tell whether he is filled up on whiskey or trying to dance. An automobile moving over these bumps gives the occupants sensation similar to that of riding in a boat on a rough sea. The bridge across the Wisconsin river is paved with these blocks and they have bumped up so that it is dangerous for one not acquainted with conditions to ride over it in the night time. Scott street north of the county square, has been pointed out as the finest piece of block paving in the city. Today it is humped up in waves to the extent that it makes one positively dizzy to look at it. Unless some way can be devised to stop this heaving, the block pavement in Wausau will soon become a nuisance.

SARATOGA COUPLE MARRIED

Last Thursday morning at 10:30 the wedding ceremony of Miss Pauline Namesnick and Mr. Glenn Wolcott was performed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs.
Joe Namesnick, in the town of Saratoga. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Theo. Reinken of the Scandinavian-Moravian church of this city.

The bride and groom were attended by Miss Rose Fisher, as bridesmaid, and Max Mitchell as groom-smen. The home had been prettily decorated for the occasion and the event was a most pleasing affair.

Both of the young people are very well and favorably known. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
Joe Namesnick of Saratoga and is one of the popular young ladies of her community. The groom is a New Rome man who has established a reputation of honesty and industry in his community which is second to none. For the present the newlyweds will make their home with the bride's parents but in the spring will build a new home of their own on a place on the Ten Mile Creek which is owned by the groom. The Tribune unites with their many friends in wishing them a long married life with every happiness.

DIRECT FROM BATTLE FIELDS

Uncle Sam's Minstrels which come to Daly's Theatre soon is composed entirely of wounded and returned soldiers, many of them so badly wounded that they will never again be able to take up their regular vocations. Notwithstanding the fact that these boys have gone thru Hell for us, they still have their ability to entertain, and after seeing their performance one would never know that they had suffered the hardships of war. Sergt. Ritchie, the hero of Belleau Wood, will deliver his thrilling lecture, as will many of the other boys. But away from this, the wonderful minstrel show is composed of some of the best entertainers and musicians that the army had. The famous 87th Infantry Band and Orchestra will positively appear at each performance.

GIRLS! LOTS OF BEAUTIFUL HAIR

A small bottle of "Danderine" makes hair thick, glossy and wavy.

Removes all dandruff, stops itching scalp and falling hair.

To be possessed of a head of heavy, beautiful hair; soft, lustrous, fluffy, wavy and free from dandruff is merely a matter of using a little Danderine.

It is easy and inexpensive to have nice, soft hair and lots of it. Just get a small bottle of Danderine. Danderine now—It costs but a few cents—all drug stores recommend it—apply a little as directed and within ten minutes there will be an appearance of abundance, freshness, fluffiness and an incomparable gloss and lustre, and try as you will you cannot find a trace of dandruff or falling hair; but your real surprise will be after about two weeks' use, when you will see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—sprouting out all over your scalp—Danderine is, we believe, the only hair grower, destroyer of dandruff and cure for itchy scalp, and it never fails to stop falling hair at once.

If you want to prove how pretty and soft your hair really is, wash it with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair—taking one small strand at a time. Your hair will be soft, glossy and beautiful in just a few moments—a delightful surprise awaits everyone who tries this. Adv.

Valuable Haul.
"You say your jewels were stolen while the family was at dinner?"
"No, no! This is a serious theft, officer. Our diamond was stolen while we were putting on our jewels."—Boston Transcript.

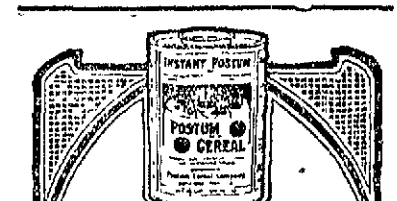

Title Was Right.
The teacher had just asked the occupations of the children's fathers.
"And what is your father's business, Tillie?"

"He's a bookkeeper," said Tillie.
Just then the teacher noticed that Tillie's nose went up in scorn.
"What's the matter, Tillie?" asked teacher.
"Isn't Tillie's papa a bookkeeper?"

"Well, my father says he is," rejoined Tillie. "At least he's never returned any of my letters."

Couldn't Do Without That.
Attached to the office of the attending surgeon, headquarters, S. O. S., is a French doctor who treats the French civilian employees. One of his patients has been suffering from a severe abscess on her leg, and the other day she had one of the army ambulances take her to the hospital.

The next day she called again, gave the same name and address, and said she wanted the patient taken to the hospital.
"That," he was told, "we took that woman to the hospital last evening."
"I know," he said, "but she forgot to take her bread ticket and had to walk back home and get it."

RED CROSS and the AMERICAN ARMY

by Maj. Gen. Merritte W. Ireland
SURGEON GENERAL OF THE U.S. ARMY

THE GREATEST word in the vocabulary of the professional medical officer is sanitation. Sanitation means cleanliness. And if order is heaven's first wish for the world, cleanliness must certainly be its second. In fact, if I were called upon to outline heaven's program for humanity I would place cleanliness first in the list of human requirements.

That the world may be clean! That is the way to the great task of the Red Cross workers at the world. Clean physically, clean mentally, clean morally—I can think of no more inspiring or practical gospel for humanity than that. And the Red Cross is its evangelist.

If such a service is needed by the world in general, how much more is it needed by an army in action! It is a commonplace that our greatest enemy in this war was not the Germans, but dirt. Never before have soldiers had to fight so much exposed to dirt and filth. And yet never has a great war been won with so little suffering and death caused directly by this enveloping contamination. For this achievement—and there has been no greater in the late war in Europe—we have to thank most of all the American Red Cross.

The story of the cleansing influence of the Red Cross workers in France is too long for me to attempt to tell with any completeness. It has been an enterprise as vast as the war itself. From the beginning it has done those things which the army medical corps wanted done but could not do itself. Without the help of the American Red Cross the army medical department could not have done its work.

The work of the Red Cross was often the line of distinction at Chateau-Thierry. I remember that it was charged upon there in a conversation between General Pershing, Mr. H. P. Davidson, the chairman of the war council of the American Red Cross and myself. We were speaking of the value of the service rendered by the millions of our women and how they helped keep the influence of home about the boys at the front. And General Pershing said: "The women of the United States deserve a large share of the credit for the success of the American forces."

Our army officers have often admitted not only the spirit but the efficiency of the American Red Cross organization. It provided an inexhaustible store of supplies. It possessed a remarkable facility for adapting itself to any emergency, however unexpected; and its personnel always showed the finest readiness for cooperation.

The influence of sanitation, of cleanliness, of order, of health, of comfort, of rest, of food, of clothing, of shelter, of all these things, alone it would have deserved the army's unstinted praise. All the supplies used in all our hospitals in France, both of the army and Red Cross, came from the Red Cross. It furnished more than a quarter of a billion dollars' worth of supplies. It sent over enough sweaters for every man in our overseas forces to have one of the comfortable garments.

I remember once, as I started to motor back to general headquarters, I told my colored driver that I had a Red Cross sweater for him. He replied: "Thanks, boss, but I've just distributed eleven of them to the boys over in the garage."

The work of the Red Cross as an organization began beyond the army's evacuating hospitals and continued through the base hospitals, convalescent homes, recreation rooms, railway food depots, on board the steamers, and on back to our own shores, and is continuing until the men reach home.

Probably the greatest single service rendered by the Red Cross home forces was the supply of medical supplies. It furnished our hospitals, our medical corps, a few nurses, but could never hope to turn out the large number provided through Miss Delano's department. If we needed a thousand nurses for a given work we telegraphed the war department. The war department notified Miss Delano. And the nurses arrived on schedule.

An especially notable service rendered by Red Cross nurses occurred during the early American campaign when our men were engaged with French divisions. When wounded, they were of course taken to French hospitals. Unable to answer questions or tell their needs, they lay in a very unhappy plight. Scores of Red Cross nurses, speaking both French and English, were immediately sent to these hospitals—and the problem was solved. In this way where several armies were operating together, the only common hospital service is that of the Red Cross.

Another much appreciated assistance came from the fact that the Red Cross could establish itself in places forbidden the army medical department. Within the district of Paris, for instance, we could not establish army hospitals. The Red Cross, however, in that district, is now operating units 1, 2 and 3 as well as a tent hospital, which had at first five hundred beds, but when I came away, had twenty-two hundred.

The Red Cross could also establish store depots in places the army could not enter for strategic reasons. Suppose headquarters planned an attack in a given region. Hospital stores must be gotten to that region. If the army were observed, the enemy by the transporting stores (either, you can see that it wouldn't take much guessing on the part of enemy observers to tell where that drive was going to be. But the Red Cross was everywhere, always preparing for any possible contingency. For it to be busy in evidence in the most unlikely places was no novelty. Thus,

CONDENSATIONS

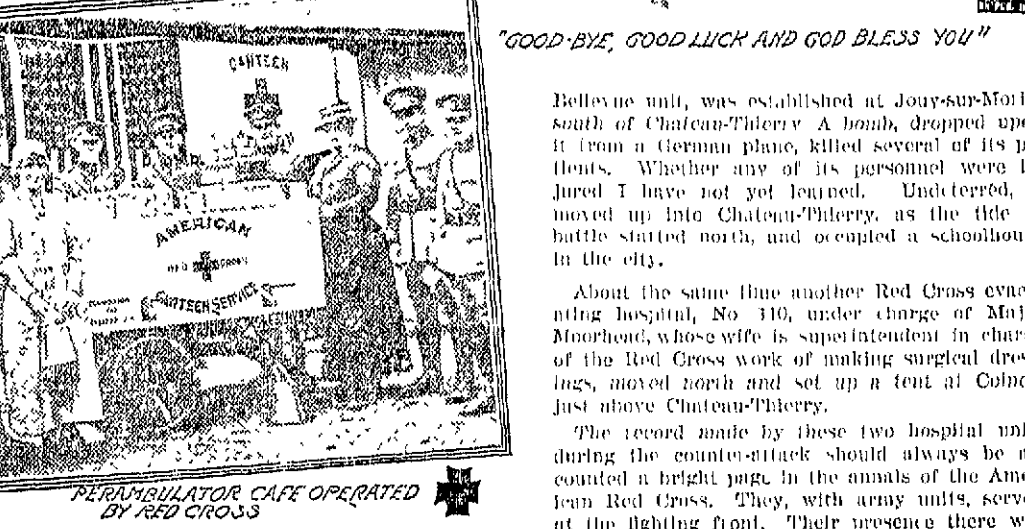

At birth the pulse of a normal individual beats 236 times a minute; at the age of thirty, 70 times.

Cast iron cannon were not made until the latter part of the fifteenth century. Previously they were always made of bronze.

Japan is considering the adoption of an alphabet of 47 letters, most of which are Roman characters, some Chinese and the remainder original symbols.

Since the beginning of the war 81 new insurance companies have been formed in Norway for various kinds of insurance business. The combined paid-in capital is over $20,000,000. Before the war Norway had 20 such companies.

Importance of the ocean as a source of food supply is shown in a report of the bureau of fisheries. In September three New England ports received 15,000,000 pounds of fish, far in excess of the normal catch. The Pacific coast landed at Seattle in the same month 4,510,000 pounds, worth $420,000.

Bellevue unit, was established at Jouy-sur-Meuse, south of Chateau-Thierry. A bomb, dropped upon it from a German plane, killed several of its patients. Whether any of its personnel were injured I have not yet learned. Understood, it moved up into Chateau-Thierry, as the tide of battle shifted north, and occupied a schoolhouse in the city.

About the same time another Red Cross evacuating hospital, No. 110, under charge of Major Moorhead, whose wife is superintendent in charge of the Red Cross work of making surgical dressings, moved north and set up a tent at Coligny, just above Chateau-Thierry.

The record made by these two hospital units during the counter-attack should always be accounted a bright page in the annals of the American Red Cross. They, with army units, saved at the fighting front. Their presence there was made necessary by reason of the emergency and because in the new French warfare the old ambulance corps stations and field hospitals had been eliminated, thus bringing the evacuating hospitals up just beyond reach of the enemy's long-range guns.

As the counter-attack developed there stretched back upon these evacuating hospitals a tide of American wounded that kept the workers busy day and night. Each unit had about eight or ten operating tables, each team being composed of a surgeon, assistant surgeon, anesthetist and nurse. They worked in shifts. One shift operated from eight in the morning until seven in the evening; then, after an hour for cleaning up, the other began at eight and worked until seven in the morning. The long tragedy of the casualties from gas, shells and machine bullets will not be understood until the workers and soldiers return, each to tell his tale.

From this time on, Major McCoy's and Major Moorhead's units were regularly numbered among the evacuating hospitals of the army medical corps and were operated as such. The facility with which they were used into the army organization is itself an indication of the harmony existing among army and Red Cross leaders.

Both these Red Cross units were thereafter moved swiftly into those places where the fighting was fiercest. They served at the drive against the St. Mihiel salient and later with the advance made from Doull to the west of the Meuse river. As to the future work of the American Red Cross in France—it will not be ended until the work of our army is ended, and perhaps not even then.

Although there is to be no further expansion of the Red Cross work in France, its work will go on. It will bring comfort to our boys not only as they lie sick in hospitals and as they keep guard on German soil, but to the thousands of repatriated French people who are returning to pick out from the bleak devastation of war the ruins of what was once their ancestral homes. Without the Red Cross army of mercy to follow in the tragic furrows made by the engines of war, the aftermath of suffering in France this winter would be a greater desolation than we can conceive.

Fighting with mortal weapons may cease, but the campaign of mercy of the Red Cross will never cease as long as the need of cleansing and healing is present among the races of the earth.—Red Cross Magazine

ONLY A LITTLE KEY

But It Made Much Trouble for New York Jeweler.

He Had Two Nights and One Day of Great Discomfort Chalked Up to the "Depravity of Inanimate Things."

"It is the little things in life that cause most of the trouble." This wise saying of the ancient philosopher was strikingly illustrated a few nights ago in New York city when the proprietor of a jewelry store in closing up for the night broke a key in the lock of the street door.

Here are some of the things that happened then: The shopkeeper tried in every possible way to lock the door or get the broken key out. His efforts were fruitless. All the help had come home but he had no one to send for a locksmith. He couldn't leave the store alone. He was so excited that for a long time he couldn't think of anything to do. Finally he went to the telephone and called up his home. His wife answered and he stammeringly asked her to come down at once. She couldn't and out with the trouble was, but wasn't "key," "lock" and "door," and suspecting a burglary she flung on her street clothes and ran out and listened down the hall distractedly.

In the meantime the husband began to telephone for a locksmith. A suggestion of "don't answer" from the telephone did away all the satisfaction he got. When his wife arrived he left her in the store while he went out to try his luck. He tramped around for an hour or more, but was as unsuccessful as he had been on the telephone.

When he got back he telephoned to police headquarters and two police men were sent to the store. He insisted that they remain outside to watch the place. He suggested to his wife that they go home, but she refused. She wouldn't think of leaving the place, even with the policeman outside. So the jeweler was forced to remain with her. About three o'clock in the morning he went out to his night room and brought back some food. He waited eagerly for morning to come, when he would be able to get a locksmith. But he had forgotten that it was Sunday, and when he started out again on his quest it was only to meet with another disappointment. Despite all his efforts he couldn't connect with a locksmith.

He and his wife passed Sunday in the store, taking turns napping. The policeman on guard outside were relieved, but there was no relief for the jeweler from his weary vigil. He never welcomed a Monday morning more than he did the one that followed when assistants appeared and he and his wife were able to go home with the assurance that a locksmith would soon be around.

Reas to the North Pole.

It seems that Captain Bartlett is not going to have things entirely his own way in his arctic expedition to the north pole, for at the present moment the British are also planning for a similar undertaking. So the arctic expedition may take on the complexion of a sportsmanlike race, with the Americans represented by Captain Bartlett and the British by Salisbury Jones of the British North Expedition company. Captain Bartlett contemplates going to the far north by way of north Greenland, while Mr. Jones is going by way of Spitzbergen; which when reduced to mathematics, means that the Americans will have some two thousand miles to go while our British cousin will have only nine hundred miles of journey. Mr. Jones believes that his expedition can make the first in about nine hours—Scientific American.

One Language.

Ten per cent of America's adult population are unable to read the language of the country. Eighteen per cent of the "coming citizens" of the United States do not attend any school. One tenth of the first 2,000,000 men called to the colors could not read their orders or understand them. The figures are from Secretary Lane's recent report. There is room for only one set of ideals in this country and except for newcomers, there is room for only one language. While the teaching of English is but one of many items in the Americanization program, it is an important one, as the figures of Secretary Lane prove—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Doctors' Fees Regulated.

The fees of doctors were prescribed by law in Babylon in the days of Nebuchadnezzar. The code of Hammurabi (the great lawyer) provided: "If a doctor has operated with a bronze lancet on a man for a severe wound, and has cured him, or has removed a cancer with a bronze lancet for a gentleman, he shall receive ten shekels of silver. If the patient be the son of a freed man, the doctor shall receive five shekels."

Ancient Bee Industry.

Some time back in the prehistoric era and probably antedating the time when mankind had tamed the wild bees and organized them in the business of producing "strictly fresh hived eggs," human kind had annexed the bee or, anyhow, had made a business of robbing the wild bees. Bee farming is a new thing under the sun, but the bees were never before so intelligently bred and cross-bred nor so intelligently assisted in the honey-making game as at present.

Pent in Manitoba.

The Canadian department of mines has recently investigated 14 pent holes in Manitoba and in a report on the supply of this fuel available in that province states that there are holes in the Winnipeg river district containing 1,500,000 tons of pent fuel, 25 per cent moisture.

Was Ever So.

"Children so very young get parties nowadays." It was not so in the good old times.

Like Master, Like Man.

Butler—He told the maid to inform 'em 'neath of us we're at 'ome, 'er 'it, 'haves a little bill myself, sir.—Dorothy Transcript.

Forty Five Years of Success The astonishing Record of PERUNA

Not a cure-all, but a rational remedy for catarrh and all inflammation and congestion of the mucous membranes.

Catarrh attacks the mucous linings, in any organ, in any part of the body. It is not, as some imagine, confined to the nose and throat, although nasal catarrh is the most common form and afflicts many people.

Unchecked catarrh soon breaks down the tissue and destroys the organs of part. Evidence of the ravages of catarrh are all around us. Without desire to frighten anyone, we say: "Guard yourself against catarrh as you would against the direct plague. Fortify your system. Take Peruna."

INSPIRING WORDS FOR THE SICK FROM THOSE WHO HAVE BEEN CURED BY PERUNA.

A Good Medicine in the Family.
I had a bad case of catarrh and could get no relief from any medicine. It is a fine medicine. We often use it in the family and find it good. Mrs. C. W. C. 1772, 6256 First Avenue, Birmingham, Alabama.

PERUNA LIKE A DIFFERENT PERSON.
Peruna has cured my stomach and I feel like a different person. I only took twelve bottles of Peruna and can eat anything without any discomfort. I have not done for fifteen years. I repeat and praise to everybody suffering with catarrh of the stomach. J. J. THOMPSON, 1029 10th St., Columbus, Georgia.

FOR ALL FORMS OF CATARRH.
Peruna is indicated for all forms of catarrh or catarrhal inflammation and congestion of the mucous linings in any part of organ, such as nose, throat, bronchitis, lungs, stomach, bowels, kidneys, bladder, etc. It is fine for coughs, colds and effects of the grip and an excellent preventive remedy.

If you want health, insist upon having Dr. Hartman's World Famous Peruna Tonic. Sold Everywhere.

Cole's Carbolacive Quickly Relieves and heals burning itching and stinging skin diseases. It cures the most obstinate cases of burns, heat, without scars, 25c and 50c. Ask your druggist, or send 25c to The J. W. Cole Co., New York, 10 for a 50c Adv.

You have probably observed that when some persons speak their minds they don't say much.

Headaches, Bilious Attacks, Indigestion, are cured by taking May Apple, Aloe, Japan made into Pleasant Tablets (Dr. Hartman's Adv.).

The man who boasts of being self-made probably believes that an honest confession is good for the soul.

MOTHER GRAY'S SWEET POWDERS FOR CHILDREN

They are pleasant to take and a certain relief. They act on the Stomach, Liver and Bowels and tend to correct indigestion and to remove the poisons from the system. Mothers and friends of little ones tell of relief. No mother should be without a box of Mother Gray's Sweet Powders for use when needed. At Druggists. Ask for it. The need of them often comes at inconvenient hours.

Used by Mothers for over thirty years. Do Not Accept Any Substitute for MOTHER GRAY'S SWEET POWDERS.

Acid-Stomach Now Quickly Relieved

These painful attacks of indigestion, heart-burn, belching, disgusting food-eructing, flatulency, bloated, lumpy feeling after eating, dyspepsia and stomach misery—all point to just one awful American disease—commonly known as ACID-STOMACH.

Fortunately there has been discovered a wonderful modern remedy—called EATONIC—that brings instant relief from all these stomach troubles because it absorbs the harmful excess acid in the stomach and drives out the blood and gas. You won't know you have a stomach, so free of pain you'll feel. Besides, it saves you from more serious ailments because it is a scientific fact that ACID-STOMACH frequently creates conditions which baffle the best medical skill. Many cases of chronic stomach trouble, biliousness, severe headache, general weakness, rheumatism, goiter, lumbago, intestinal ulcer, cancer of the stomach, heart pains and even heart failure can be traced directly to Acid-Stomach.

Avoid these dangers—don't let cold, stomach wreck your health. Don't drag out your days feeling all in, down and out, weak and ailing. Keep the stomach sweet and strong. Get the things you like and digest your food in comfort. Then you'll feel fine—be fitmentally alert—have pep and punch—the power and will to do things.

Take EATONIC and give your stomach the help to put it in a fine, healthy condition so that it will digest your food perfectly and make every remnant you eat register 100% in enriching your blood and building up your body strength.

Get a big box of EATONIC TABLETS from your druggist today. They taste good—just like a bit of candy. The cost is trifling. It is absolutely sure. It is the only reliable remedy for stomach misery, your druggist will refund your money.

HAARLEM OIL CAPSULES IF YOUR BACK ACHES

Do you feel tired and "worn-out"? Are you nervous and irritable? Don't sleep well at night? Have a "dragged out" unrefreshed feeling when you get up in the morning? Heavy spells? Blisters? Bad taste in the mouth, backache, pain or soreness in the loins, and abdomen? Severe distress when urinating, bloody, cloudy urine or sediment? All these indicate gravel or stone in the bladder, or that the poisonous minerals, which are always in your system, have attacked your kidneys.

You should use GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules immediately. The oil works gently into the walls and lining of the kidneys, and the life of the poisonous animal germs, which are causing the inflammation, are immediately arrested, and chased out of your system without inconvenience or pain.

Don't ignore the "little pains and aches," especially backaches. They may be little now but there is no telling how soon a dangerous or fatal disease of which they are the forerunners may show itself. Go after the cause of that backache at once, or you may find yourself in the grip of an incurable disease.

Do not delay a minute. Go to your druggist and insist on his supplying you with a box of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. In 24 hours you will feel renewed health and vigor. After you have cured yourself, continue to take one or two capsules each day so as to keep in first-class condition, and ward off the danger of the future attacks. Money refunded if they do not help you. Ask for the daily attacks, and chased out of your system without inconvenience or pain.

A PICTORIAL BANQUET

Lyman H. Howe's new Travel Festival, which comes to Daly's Theatre on Saturday, March 8th, matinee and night, has aptly been termed a "pictorial banquet."

The program embraces such a wealth of diversified material that it cannot fail to appeal to the tastes of all who attend. It is a feast of education and entertainment, including an up-to-the-minute excursion thru Yellowstone National Park, a ride in a maneuvering warplane over the city of Washington, the capture of monster sea-monsters in the South Seas, a picturesque journey through Japan, rarely beautiful pictures of clouds, exciting glimpses of Italian ski soldiers in action in the Alps, a strenuous hunting and fishing trip in the Canadian wilds, a vivid explanation of the insignia of the United States Army, new and various accomplishments of powerful caterpillar tractors, and a copious measure of those delectable animated caricatures and film novelties which are so characteristic of the Howe entertainments.

Frank Eberhardt of the town of Grant, Portage county, is a business visitor in the city today.

CO. RURAL CARRIER
HELD MEETING HERE

George Specht, of Marshfield, was elected president of the Wood County Rural Mail Carriers Association at their annual meeting, which was held in the Odd Fellows Hall in this city, Washington's Birthday, February 22nd. Other officers elected are: D. J. Robinson, Arpin, Vice-president; and Ed. Dexheimer, Marshfield, Secretary and Treasurer. Delegates to the State Convention of Rural Mail Carriers, which will be held at Whitewater next summer are: Ed. Kennedy, Auburndale; George Specht, Marshfield and Ed. Dexheimer of Marshfield.

Practically all the rural mail carriers in the county were at the meeting, and when the entire assembly with their wives were gathered, about sixty persons were present. The morning session started at ten o'clock and was of a business nature. Postmaster R. L. Nash addressed the carriers and the meeting was taken up with questions. Mr. Nash spoke of how the service had improved the last few years and gave some good suggestions as to how it can still be improved to benefit the farmers in the county. Any who had any questions or problems brought them up and the carriers did their best to solve them or offer some remedy.

What was stated to be the feature of the gathering was the sumptuous dinner that was served at 12:30. The meal had been prepared by Mrs. Fred Fiegl, Mrs. Ernest Miller and Mrs. Reinhold Timm, wives of local carriers, and was said to exceed anything of this nature that has been attempted since Mr. Hoover put some restrictions on food. The afternoon was taken up with a social session and the visitors left for their homes about five o'clock.

IS SERIOUSLY ILL

Mrs. F. C. Wood of Hancock, who has been visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. L. Hayward, was taken seriously ill about a week ago and is at present confined to her bed, showing but little improvement. Mr. and Mrs. Wood came up for a visit about three weeks ago and it was while here that Mrs. Wood took sick. Her daughter, Mrs. T. A. Patterson of Hancock spent Tuesday and Wednesday with her mother at the Hayward home.

CITY POINT

The Woodman's Circle was a big success. A good time was reported by all.

Our buttermaker, Mr. Shaw, has resigned his position and has accepted a similar one in Dexterville.

Ice hauling is the order of the day. Stafton, Jensen and Franson have their ice houses filled and now everybody is at work filling the creamery ice house.

Wm. Haag is on telephone business at Neillsville today. It looks as though City Point is to have the telephone after all.

Miss Gertrude Nelson is visiting her friend, Miss Rachel Voight at Weyauwago this week.

We understand that Ray Paulson is going to rent his father's farm the coming year.

Mr. Ellis is hauling logs to the Reshel saw mill. We understand he is going to erect a large barn in the new future.

The crematory opened Monday with George Galloway as buttermaker.

Ole Cox left early Monday morning for Ontario, Vernon County. We hear he is to work in a garage at that place.

Our pastor, Mrs. Purington left on Tuesday for Chetek on missionary business.

Lynn Paulson is hauling wood for F. N. Nelson.

Mrs. Hug Leloff left for Grand Rapids Saturday.

RUDOLPH

This community was shocked Saturday morning on hearing of the death of Miss Daisy Lavague, who made her home with her uncle, Babe Crotteau, for several years past. She was a young woman of sterling qualities and loved by all who knew her. She leaves to mourn her untimely death an adopted son, Donald two brothers, Earl and Joe and four sisters.

Miss Mary Vadnais has resigned her position as clerk at the Kujawa & Wilkins store. They are now looking for another clerk.

The wedding of Mr. Chris. Joosten son of Mr. and Mrs. John Joosten, and Miss Elizabeth Hartjes, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hartjes, was solemnized at St. Philomena's Catholic church Monday morning at 9 o'clock. They were accompanied by Sylvester Hartjes, brother of the bride and Miss Delhia Joosten, sister of the groom. Dinner was served to the relatives of the bride and groom and a few intimate friends. They have the best wishes of their many friends.

Any of my neighbors or friends who have any news that they think would interest some one else, I wish you would phone me or write me. Everyone knows who the Rudolph correspondent is as I sometime do not hear of important news until it is too late. Then some one may think I did not want to put it in the paper. So please help me. I am always glad to hear of the friends who are visiting you or the new comers who arrive to gladden your homes.

Mrs. Louise Spalenka Smongeski of Stevens Point came down Monday and stopped with her sister, Mrs. J. Wilkens.

Tuesday morning Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Kujawa, Mrs. John Wilkens, Mrs. Smongeski and an aunt of the ladies departed for Hatley, Wis. to attend the wedding of their brother, Frank Spalenka.

All E. F. U. members don't forget the meeting Saturday evening, March 1st.

Nick Ratelle is hauling hay to Grand Rapids. He has about 20 ton for sale which he cut on the Chris. Hassel place.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Piltz spent several days the past week in Milwaukee where they took their baby for treatment.

Glady's Ratelle was shopping in Grand Rapids on Monday.

We are sorry to hear that Sister Alice at the Parochial school is suffering with a sprained ankle.

Mrs. Effie Bjerstedt and Miss Beatrice St. Denis spent Saturday in Wausau.

Percy Millenbah goes to Junction City four nights in the week where he is taking lessons in telegraph.

Miss Vida Sharkey who has been visiting her parents in Grand Rapids will spend Monday night to attend the wedding dance and spent the night at the Nick Ratelle home. After calling on old friends Tuesday she returned to Grand Rapids.

Theo. Timmerman spent Tuesday and Wednesday in Grand Rapids. Wednesday evening he was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Schaeffers of Tony, Wis. who have been visiting in their son, Len, in Grand Rapids who resides on Fourth Ave. N.
